

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF OHIO RIVER CHAMPIONS OPENS AT PARKERSBURG

Distinguished Men From All Parts of the Great Valley Present, Working Earnestly for the Cause.

Parkersburg, W. Va., November 11.—(Special)—The city is crowded with enthusiasts on the subject of improved navigation for the Ohio river. These enthusiasts are among the most prominent and influential of the citizens making up the 13,000,000 population of the Ohio valley. Among them are governors of states, United States senators, congressmen, manufacturers of wide reputation, and men whose personal checks would be good for millions.

The meeting of the Ohio River Improvement association which opened this morning at 10 o'clock, is certainly destined to be great and memorable. The forenoon was largely devoted to welcoming speeches and routine work, but even in this the temper of the great assembly was apparent. The workers for river improvement are in earnest and their plans to bring about that improvement are practical and not visionary.

Governor White welcomed the convention in an eloquent speech, in which he outlined at much length the greatness of the Ohio valley and the interests, not only of West Virginia, but of the whole country, therein. He was followed by J. W. Vandervort, mayor of Parkersburg, E. M. Gilkeson, of this city, spoke for the Business Men's league. President John L. Vance, of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, responded in a forcible address on the importance of the work before the convention.

Organization, reports, and business matters occupied the attention of the convention until noon.

This afternoon was devoted to addresses. Among those booked to speak were Senator Elkins, Foraker and Scott; Congressman Dovenor, Grosvenor, Dalzell and Hemingway; Col. George H. Anderson, secretary of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce, and Hon. John F. Dravo, of the Pittsburg Coal Exchange, with an opportunity for short speeches by others desiring to make them.

Parkersburg is gaily decorated and is giving the many hundreds of visitors royal entertainment.

One of the most notable features of the convention is the attendance of men high in public life, men who have weight, men who by their oratorical and intellectual abilities could start a

COWARDLY AND CRUEL HUSBAND

For Brutality to His Wife and Family Will Likely Spend a Long Term at the Workhouse.

Suffering with nervous prostration as the result of her husband's cruel actions, Mrs. Alfred Rose lies at her home in the Peach block on College street in a precarious condition, and the husband, for his display of barbarism, will be an inmate of the Canton workhouse at hard labor for exactly 161 days.

After he had carried on at his home in a most disgraceful manner for more than an hour Rose was arrested last evening at 9 o'clock by Officers Dawson and Morris, upon the request of Miss Maude Rose, a daughter, who, though she hated awfully to do so, having fearful anticipations of the shame that the arrest of her father would bring on the family, was compelled to summon the police in order that the life of her mother might be saved.

To the city jail the man who in former years, it is said, was a good husband and father and a respected citizen, but now nothing less than a degraded brute, was taken by the officers and assigned to a cell. Upon his incarceration he became very indignant and said that he would show a certain set of people whether or not they could get revenge on him by having him arrested for a wrong that he never committed. He said that he would prove this morning that he was not guilty and demanded a trial at 10 o'clock.

However, by morning the effect of some of the booze, which, it seems, had been his most intimate companion for many months, had slightly died away and he was not nearly so anxious to have the true state of affairs aired in court. After a short deliberation he asked that a hearing be granted him. This done, he, without offering any excuse, pleaded guilty to the charge and received a fine of $25 and costs, in default of which he will be sent to the workhouse.

In giving sentence Mayor Davidson turned on all of his latent reprimanding abilities and the lecture that Rose received was enough to make a man without a conscience and past all hopes of ever recovering from the depths of debasement quiver and wish that his days on earth were at an end. He said:

"Rose, from all that I can learn, this is not the first time that you have acted in this manner at your home. Your reputation is that of a man too low and degraded to be allowed to inhabit a civilized community. I understand that for months you have not contributed one cent toward the maintenance of your family. A man of your physical strength, able to provide well for a family, and instead of doing so spending all for drink, should be horsewhipped. Up at your home now lies your wife, a woman respected by every person who knows her, in a condition that may result seriously, and all is due to your inhuman treatment. That you are guilty to the charge is a self evident fact to me.

"No man could be guiltless when his wife and children are compelled to resort to the police for protection. Entire families do not turn against a father and husband without good cause. You ought to be so ashamed of

JOHN ALLISON IN AGAIN

Released from Wellsville Jail Only to Land Behind the Bars in This City.

John Allison is in durance vile again. And it is the first time for many months that he has been behind the bars with a charge other than theft against him. This time it is only a common drunk charge. He was picked up last evening by Officer McDermott while taking Second street in at every stride. He had in his possession when landed at the city hall $2.75, three packages of tobacco, one sack of coffee, a loaf of bread and numerous other articles.

Allison will be let off with $5.00, inasmuch as it is his first incarceration since he was released from jail at Wellsville yesterday.

A REPUBLICAN CLUB IS MUCH NEEDED

This Is the Consensus of Opinion of Members of the Central Committee.

TO GET OUT FULL VOTE

Various Plans Were Suggested And Discussed—Plenty of Money on Hand to Settle All Bills Incurred During the Recent Campaign.

The city Republican central committee held a meeting at city hall last night at which there was a good turnout. The purpose of the meeting was to settle up the affairs of the organization for the campaign just closed. The expenses were not great, and it was found when all bills had been presented there was plenty of money with which to liquidate all indebtedness.

During the progress of the meeting a question was broached which, while not a new one by any means, has nevertheless been a source of much concern to not only the city committee but the Republicans generally. Aside from presidential year, it is seldom that the full Republican vote is out and in spite of every effort put forth by the committee in the recent election, there were a large number of stay-at-homes. It was brought out at the meeting last night that this condition was probably due to a lack of proper ward and precinct organization. Many suggestions were made looking to the inauguration of a systematic and vigorous movement which would result in a full vote being polled on every occasion.

While the plan was not mentioned last night it is known that a number of members of the committee are of the opinion that the best method that could possibly be employed to bring about the desired result would be the institution of a Republican club, which would be permanent and influential, taking in members of the party from every section of the city. This plan is taboed by party leaders, on account of the fact that the last club of this character existing here for several years, was not the success it might have been. There are many reasons for the lack of interest in the old McKinley club and it would be ancient history to recall them at this time.

The central committee would be glad to lend assistance to a movement of this sort, and it is acknowledged that a Republican club would be a vast improvement as a means of getting out the vote of every election than by the methods now employed.

MAY GO TO WORKHOUSE

That Fate Ahead of Grover Tasker Unless He Promptly Puts Up $9.60.

Unless Grover Tasker, a young man yet in his teens, produces $9.60 by this evening he will accompany Alfred Rose to the workhouse tomorrow morning. Tasker was arrested last evening at the opera house by Special Officer Weaver and was placed in the city jail with a charge of disorderly fighting against him.

Charles Baker was also arrested by Officer Weaver, but later was released. It being found that he was fighting in self-defense.

SUIT BROUGHT FOR $1,000

Against An Administrator, the Controversy Growing Out of a Promissory Note.

Lisbon, November 11.—(Special)—Robert Campbell has brought suit against W. S. Potts, as administrator of the estate of John Matthews for $1,000. The amount is claimed on a note which was given to the deceased by Charles Matthews, who assigned it to Campbell. The latter claimed the administrator refused to endorse it when it was presented to him.

THE INSTITUTES FOR THE FARMERS

Dates and Speakers for Gatherings of Columbiana County Agriculturists.

ANOTHER ERROR IN CODE

Which, However, Is Not Expected Seriously to Impair It—List of Pharmacists Lately Licensed—Life-Sentence Man Gets a Pardon.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, November 11.—A bulletin has been issued by the state board of agriculture giving detailed information on the farmers' institutes to be held in the different counties of the state under the auspices of the board this winter. Three mills per capita is allowed each county for local institute expenses, the fund for Columbiana county being $125, which will be equally divided among the institutes. The places, dates, names and addresses of presidents, secretaries and lecturers of the Columbiana county institutes are as follows: New Waterford, December 12 and 13, president, J. W. Cope, New Waterford; secretary, W. T. Cutshall, New Waterford; lecturers, John Begg, Columbus Grove, Putnam county; C. I. McCormick, Gallia county.

Lisbon, January 9 and 10, president, Homer Shelton, Teegarden; secretary, John Patterson, Lisbon; lecturers, John L. Shawver, Bellefontaine, Logan county; Charles McIntyre, Chandeliers, Muskingum county.

Damascus, January 30 and 31, president, D. J. Powell, Damascus; secretary, Mrs. S. J. Santer, Damascus; lecturers, John Begg, Columbus Grove, Putnam county; Rei Rathbun, Springfield, Clark county.

The places for the Columbiana county institutes were given in this corner somewhere some time ago, but the dates and assignment of speakers had not been made at that time. Lecturers occupy about one-half of the time of each session with short, practical talks on farm topics, the other half being taken up by general discussion of those present and in answering questions. The institute proper consists of five sessions, morning, afternoon and evening of the first day and morning and afternoon of the second day.

The state board of pharmacy has given out the result of the October examination of applicants for pharmacists' licenses. About 30 per cent of the number examined failed. Among the successful applicants who have been granted certificates are the following: Satisfactory pharmacists—Frank Sanda, East Palestine; William F. Shanks, Wellsville; Arthur H. Thomas, Columbiana; Fred T. Bennett, Lisbon; Charles E. Bradshaw, former of East Liverpool, now of Niles; Emmet B. Cary, of Alliance, was given an assistant pharmacist's certificate.

Another mistake has been discovered in the code. Two different fiscal years is provided pertaining to the same subject. One makes the taxation year extend from April 1 each year to April 1 of the succeeding year elsewhere it is provided that the fiscal year shall begin January 1 and end December 31. There is no doubt but that a number of minor errors will crop out from time to time in the code but it is not anticipated they will seriously impair it, nor is it thought that the court would consent to knock out the law at this time were test cases brought to test its validity because of the chaotic condition which would result. The code is not perfect, as every one knows, and one of the duties the next legislature will be called upon to perform will be to correct its infirmities.

Governor Nash will attend the "On to Cairo" meeting, to be held under the auspices of the Ohio River Improvement association at Parkersburg, W. Va., but will not be present on the opening day.

Governor Nash has pardoned Henry Wehrli, serving a life sentence from Tuscarawas county. It is granted on condition that he abstain from the use of liquor. Wehrli shot a man named Booth, using a shot gun, on Christmas day, 1900, after a night spent in debauch by each which resulted in a quarrel. Wehrli was sentenced to be hung, but escaped the gallows through Governor McKinley commuting the sentence to life imprisonment. The prosecuting attorney said he feels the verdict should have been manslaughter.

MAKING ANOTHER SURVEY FOR AN ELECTRIC RAILWAY TO REACH EAST LIVERPOOL

Surveyor Says a Line Connecting Youngstown, Salem, Lisbon and This City Is a Certainty.

Salem, November 11.—Prospects for an electric railway line between Youngstown and East Liverpool, touching Salem and Lisbon, a project that has been hanging in the air for two years or more, look brighter at present, and there are indications which lead one to believe the road will be built in the near future.

A party of four surveyors from Lisbon arrived in this city yesterday. The party included J. F. Spence, C. R. Gaskill, C. W. Rick and D. C. Spence. The first named was in charge and acted as spokesman when there was anything to be said. The men stopped at the Falkenberg, and will be in this city for a day or two while they work south. At present they are merely restaking a line which was surveyed between this city and East Liverpool, through Lisbon, two years ago. J. F. Spence made the survey then and he has, of course, a good idea as to the location of the old stakes. The work of running over the old line to East Liverpool will be completed within two weeks, it is believed. Then the party will return here and make the actual survey to East Liverpool. After that is done a survey will be made between Salem and Youngstown.

J. F. Spence talked to some extent about the project, but some points he refused to be quoted on. To a reporter he said:

"We are simply restaking an old line in East Liverpool which I made two years ago. We are working for the Youngstown, Salem, Lisbon & East Liverpool Electric Railway Co. Our line will run direct from Salem to Lisbon, and thence to the river at East Liverpool. We will have spurs from the main line to Leetonia and Columbiana. The route from this city to Youngstown I cannot mention at this time."

"Is this line a part of the one in which A. W. Jones and J. H. Ruhlman, of Youngstown, are interested, which has for its purpose the reaching of Columbiana from Youngstown?" the scribe queried.

"You did not hear me say so, did you?" Mr. Spence replied. "I cannot tell you now who is behind the project, but it ought to be sufficient for me to say that before we started out on the survey this time the matter had been

ASSAULTED AND KNOCKED DOWN

Geo. Culbertson, Well Known East End Citizen, Victim of Footpads—Used Pistol and Routed Them.

Like the hiss of a viper came the awful imprecation of a highwayman to George Culbertson at about 9 o'clock last night as he was passing the Horace Mann school building, a hundred yards from Pennsylvania avenue, in the East End. But more cowardly than the reptile, the robber gave no time for the victim to protect himself until an awful blow was struck. That it did not carry foul murder with it was only because it did not strike where intended by the cowardly assassin and robbers.

Mr. Culbertson had left home early in the evening for Wellsville, taking with him money, about $157, to pay for a car of bricks. On the way down his eye began paining him to such an extent that he concluded to abandon the trip and left the car to go to a doctor's office. After having the eye treated and making some small purchases he boarded another car for his home, alighting near the main entrance to the Columbian park. The cross street leading to his home is unlighted and there are a number of vacant lots which are grown up with high weeds. The light from the flint mill shines along the street in such a way as to blind one walking toward it, and at the school building there is a large tree affording excellent concealment. The entire aspect of the place is such as to favor attempts of this nature.

When Mr. Culbertson left the car his first thoughts were of highwaymen, and he drew his revolver from his pocket and walked along with it in his hand. Before reaching the spot where he was attacked the thoughts of highwaymen had slipped entirely from his mind and he was not on his guard when he heard a human voice hiss: "Now I've got you, you ———" A second later he received an awful blow on the back of the neck. The blow was a vicious one, no doubt intended to crush him to death, or at least into insensibility. It was struck from the rear and to the left and Mr. Culbertson fell on his face and right shoulder. His assailants no doubt thought that the terrible blow they had dealt had accomplished the desired end, for they did not strike him again but pounced upon him like hungry beasts of prey.

Mr. Culbertson was almost insensible from the blow but could dimly realize that his assailants had turned him over and one of them was rifling his pockets. He still grasped the revolver, but his arm was cramped in such a way that he could not use it. In a moment, however, the man who was bending over him changed his position in such a way that the arm was freed and Mr. Culbertson, taking the best aim possible under the circumstances, pulled the trigger. There was a horrible oath and the hand was quickly drawn from the pocket.

The nerve of the robbers was gone and they started to run. With the greatest of difficulty Mr. Culbertson raised himself to his knees and fired again at one of the fleeing forms. The robbers had taken the opposite directions, one going directly west, and the other toward Pennsylvania

For Brutality to His Wife and Family Will Likely Spend a Long Term at the Workhouse.

Suffering with nervous prostration as the result of her husband's cruel actions, Mrs. Alfred Rose lies at her home in the Peach block on College street in a precarious condition, and the husband, for his display of barbarism, will be an inmate of the Canton workhouse at hard labor for exactly 161 days.

ASSAULTED AND KNOCKED DOWN

Geo. Culbertson, Well Known East End Citizen, Victim of Footpads—Used Pistol and Routed Them.

Like the hiss of a viper came the awful imprecation of a highwayman to George Culbertson at about 9 o'clock last night as he was passing the Horace Mann school building, a hundred yards from Pennsylvania avenue, in the East End. But more cowardly than the reptile, the robber gave no time for the victim to protect himself until an awful blow was struck. That it did not carry foul murder with it was only because it did not strike where intended by the cowardly assassins and robbers.

Mr. Culbertson had left home early in the evening for Wellsville, taking with him money, about $157, to pay for a car of bricks. On the way down his eye began paining him to such an extent that he concluded to abandon the trip and left the car to go to a doctor's office. After having the eye treated and making some small purchases he boarded another car for his home, alighting near the main entrance to Columbiana park. The cross street leading to his home is unlighted and there are a number of vacant lots which are grown up with high weeds. The light from the flint mill shines along the street in such a way as to blind one walking toward it, and at the school building there is a large tree affording excellent concealment. The entire aspect of the place is such as to favor attempts of this nature.

When Mr. Culbertson left the car his first thoughts were of highwaymen, and he drew his revolver from his pocket and walked along with it in his hand. Before reaching the spot where he was attacked the thoughts of highwaymen had slipped entirely from his mind and he was not on his guard when he heard a human voice hiss: "Now I've got you, you ———." A second later he received an awful blow on the back of the neck. The blow was a vicious one, no doubt intended to crush him to death, or at least into insensibility. It was struck from the rear and to the left and Mr. Culbertson fell on his face and right shoulder. His assailants no doubt thought that the terrific blow they had dealt had accomplished the desired end, for they did not strike him again but pounced upon him like hungry beasts of prey.

Mr. Culbertson was almost insensible from the blow but could dimly realize that his assailants had turned him over and one of them was rifling his pockets. He still grasped the revolver, but his arm was cramped in such a way that he could not use it. In a moment, however, the man who was bending over him changed his position in such a way that the arm was freed and Mr. Culbertson, taking the best aim possible under the circumstances, pulled the trigger. There was a horrible oath and the hand was quickly drawn from the pocket.

The nerve of the robbers was gone and they started to run. With the greatest of difficulty Mr. Culbertson raised himself to his knees and fired again at one of the fleeing forms. The robbers had taken the opposite directions, one going directly west, and the other toward Pennsylvania

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

SAVING ON PACKING.

The potteries that are making scheme goods have adopted the use of second-hand barrels as an economy for packing, and it is impossible at present to secure enough of them. The potters are paying seventeen cents and twenty cents for cracker and sugar barrels respectively, while the new packages cost thirty-eight—something of a saving. These scheme goods are sold so close that everything in connection with their manufacture is cut to the lowest possible limit.

CHANGE IN NAME.

The name of the Crooksville Art Pottery Co., of Crooksville, has been changed to the Crooksville China Co. When the company was first incorporated, it was the intention to manufacture a line of art ware, but a change in plans was made and the company will make white ware. The five kiln plant will be devoted entirely to the production of this class of goods.

ZANESVILLE'S NEW LINES.

The J. B. Owens pottery, of Zanesville, is putting several new lines upon the American market which seem to have made a hit. Some of the best effects are in quadruple blends and are now being exhibited for the first time in public. The jars and other shapes in which these blends are introduced are made from 8-inch to 16-inch in height.

MADE NIGHT HIDEOUS.

The Italians employed in making the grade for the C. & P. double track were on a rampage Saturday night. Their shanties along the hillside above Harker's pottery were the scene and they made the night hideous with their cries and screams. James Means, who is firing a kiln at Harker's, was an interested listener to the melee.

FERGUSON IMPROVING.

S. M. Ferguson, general manager of the East Liverpool Potteries company, who was seriously injured in a street car accident some two weeks ago, is beginning to get around again with the aid of a cane, and expects to resume work before the close of the present week.

DOING A BIG BUSINESS.

Harkers are packing a car of mixed ware this week for shipment to St. Paul, Minn. This pottery is enjoying a big business and the orders have been so numerous of late that the shipments have been made from ware just from the kilns. All the departments are being worked to their full capacity.

ADVANCED.

Frank Johnston and Francis Beaver have been advanced from apprentices to journeymen in the biscuit kiln crew at Harker's. The event was celebrated by them by passing around the cigars among their bench mates.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Miss Bertie Cook, a taker-off at Harker's, has resigned.

Miss Elizabeth Elliott has accepted a situation at Thompson's.

Miss Annie O'Donnell has taken a position as finisher at Harker's.

W. Lownds has left the China works and accepted a position as dipper at Brun's.

Norman Grubb, of Bradford, Pa., has accepted a position in the slip house at Thompson's.

James Fox, a jiggerman from Murphy's, has gone on at Harker's as an apprentice kiln hand.

William Rigby, of the dipping department at Harker's, was reported on the sick list yesterday.

Miss Della Hoskins, of the decorating room at Thompson's, is back at work again after an illness.

Miss Mabel Foster, of the decorating room at the Thompson, has returned from a visit with Pittsburgh friends.

Miss Emma Hanley, of Harker's, has been confined to her home on Railroad street for several days with sickness.

Miss Orilla Treese, of the decorating room at Thompson's, returned to work yesterday after a week's illness.

William Costlow and Charley Roser, pressers at Harker's, are back at work again after being ill for a week or more.

It is a strong probability that six biscuit kilns will be made each pay at Harker's instead of five, as is now the case. An extra jiggerman will be put on.

Teddy McDermott, of the glost kiln crew at Harker's, was a visitor to Pittsburgh Sunday.

Earl Coleman has resigned as bench boss in the biscuit end at the K. T. & K., and accepted a situation in the biscuit end at Thompson's.

Mrs. Minnie Nolan has resigned as forelady of the biscuit warehouse at the Thompson to accept a situation as filler-in in the decorating department.

Albert McDoyle, the well known potteryman, of Sebring, who recently came to this city, has taken a position in the glost kiln crew at Harker's.

James Stanley, bench boss of the glost kiln crew at Harker's, has moved into his new house on Bradshaw avenue, where he is now most comfortably situated.

Miss Billie Ward, of the decorating room at the Thompson, has been very sick for the past few days and her sister, Miss Rose, has been filling her position.

Miss Mary Ward, of the decorating department at the Thompson, will leave in a few days for Sebring, where she will visit her brother, John, for a few days.

Nelson Eisenhuth, presser at the K. T. & K., who was injured several weeks ago in an elevator accident, is improving, though not yet able to return to work.

FEELS AGGRIEVED

A DOLEFUL WAIL SET UP ANENT THE FOOT BALL ROW.

One of the Newspapers Complains of Unfair Tactics And Gives Its Side at Length.

The following are the comments of the Steubenville Herald-Star on the football fiasco of Saturday:

One of the rankest places along the entire length of the Ohio valley for foot ball or any other kind of athletics to flourish is in the miasmatic sporting community of East Liverpool. Somehow they cannot be straight or courteous to visiting teams. Some years ago the S. A. C. foot ball team went up there to play, and they chased the Steubenville referee off the field. The young man in question is held in high esteem here by those opposite him politically, and in every way and he would not stoop to do anything unfair even for his own team. We refer to S. E. Loftus. To top it all off they mobbed the players at the depot. From that day to this they felt so guilty that they could not be persuaded to come here and play, fearing they would get paid back in like coin, whereas Steubenville will not see outside players given the wrong end of deals, McFadden, the basket ball player, to the contrary. The boys here treat visiting teams more royally and courteously than teams are treated elsewhere. What East Liverpool did Saturday is an injury to sports and is low down practice, and they should feel ashamed to engage in sports of any class. It was infinitesimally little and childish for men to be mixed up in. It is now up to them if they are not rank quitters and want to show that they are game to take up Capt. Needham's challenge to play on some neutral ground, say Toronto. It is dollars to doughnuts they will squirm out of accepting the challenge.

Saturday's game put the right brand on the East Liverpool players. It was a short game, only lasting about two minutes and a half and there it ended, due to the dirty, unfair tactics of East Liverpool players. Even some of the spectators who were robbed out of their money and none refunded, objected to the tactics of the East Liverpool players and stated that our local referee was all right in his decision. East Liverpool kicked off and Burns, who got the ball, returned it 15 yards. Burns hit the line for 30 yards in three downs and it was easy sailing hitting the East Liverpool quitters. In attempting an end run a fumble was made and East Liverpool got the ball. On the second down the East Liverpool quarterback did not pass the ball, was wedged in against the line and in a few seconds threw the ball forward and it was gotten by one of their players and he made a touchdown, and Burns, who could have stopped the latter play, did not, as the whistle had blown. Referee Doyle decided it a forward pass and ordered the ball back. East Liverpool would not listen to this and wanted the referee put out of the game, but our boys would not stand for it and so the game was called. The East Liverpool captain refused to pay our players' expenses and would not refund money to spectators.

CIDER MAKING IN THE COUNTRY

Midnight Is the Time the Day's Work Begins and It Lasts
Till Nightfall.

A FAST GROWING INDUSTRY

The Ohio Output the Present Year
Likely to Reach a Million Gallons.
The Process at the Mills—Interesting Features.

Midnight is an odd hour at which to begin the day's work, but it is the time at which the great majority of the cider mills scattered through Ohio start their daily grind in the busy part of the season, and frequently this term is applicable to the entire period that they run. Darkness has generally fallen when the clank of the machinery of the mills ceases, and at times the dawn of another day is reached, with the machinery still in motion, another day's work following without a break.

The cider-making industry has increased wonderfully the past few years, even the old days when cider was the staple beverage of the winter fireside and the direction in which the products of the orchard invariably went, falling considerably below the mark set by the active manufacturers of the present time. Thirty thousand gallons of cider a season is a common estimate for one mill, and when it is known that the season rarely passes beyond three months, it can be seen that the daily average is by no means inconsiderable. Many mills put out 2,000 gallons of cider a day, and do not regard this fact as anything to be especially proud of. It would not be exaggerating to say that the cider output for Ohio this year will foot up to one million gallons.

If this estimate had been mentioned to the farmer of twenty-five and thirty years ago, who depended on his hand press for grinding his apples, he would probably have ridiculed the statement. And yet while the making of cider has made rapid strides in the last quarter of a century, the process is still hardly in a perfected condition, and a view of the vast majority of cider mills scattered through the state would be decidedly disappointing to the person who had no previous acquaintance with them.

To begin with, in many instances the average building hardly merits even that term of architecture, and could be more appropriately called a "shed." The "mill" consists generally

A WOMAN'S PRAYER.

It is notable that in the despondency caused by womanly diseases, there seems to many a suffering woman no way of escape from pain except at the price of life itself. It would be sad to record such a story of struggle and suffering except for the fact that in such dire distress many a woman has found a way back to health and happiness by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This great remedy for womanly ills has well been called "A god-send to weak and sick women." It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"Your medicine almost raised me from the dead," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Egypt, Plymouth Co., Mass., Box 14. "My urine was like brick dust, and I had pain all over me and such a dragging feeling it seemed I could not do my house work. I had to sit down to wash the dishes, even. In the year 1897 I was so sick I did not care to live and prayed many times that God would take me. One day I found a little book. I read it and wrote to Dr. Pierce, and in a few days received an answer. I decided to try his medicine, and to-day I am a well woman. I have no backache, no headache, no pain at all. I used always to have headaches previously to the monthly period and such pain that I would roll on the floor in agony. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and was completely cured."

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing just as good.

of from two to three rooms, in which a board floor is a rarity, the machinery being erected on loose boards laid on the bare earth. There is generally a "loft" to the building, also, which is used for the storing of the miscellaneous rubbish that accumulates during the season. There are in the neighborhood of from five to ten of these mills scattered over a county, operated by a thrifty farmer who has cleverness enough to turn the needs of his neighbors to a profit to himself, however small that profit may be.

The first step in the making of cider is the sorting of the apples from which it is intended it shall be made. To the uninitiated one kind is as good as another for this purpose, but the experienced farmer, the connoisseur in matters pertaining to the cider press, knows better. Therefore, it is a matter of careful consideration with him which variety of apples he will take to the cider mill, and which he will store in the barn for winter use, or ship to the city markets. The most popular variety of apples for cider is known as the "Rambo," and a bushel will make from two to three gallons of the cider.

The apples as they arrive at the cider mill are poured into a huge vat, where a "grinder" turns them out shortly afterwards in large juicy masses ready for the cider press. These masses are generally laid on a series of wooden screens suspended above each other, frequently five and six in a row. In the parlance of the cider mill the great masses of freshly ground apples are termed "cheeses," and they do indeed, merit the term. The "cheeses" are generally from three to four feet square and gradually taper to a point. When half a dozen of the screens are covered they are lifted into the great press, and a pressure of several thousand pounds soon brings the rich juice spurting out through the faucets into large tanks arranged for this purpose, which in an incredibly short time is filled to the brim, and the spectator can hardly realize that within the space of half an hour the load of apples that was driven up to the door is now ready for removal in the shape of seventy-five or a hundred gallons of cider.

Frequently an "apple butter" business is carried on as a side line at the cider mill, and where this is done the farmer leaves a portion of his cider in the hands of the manufacturer, who, at a trifling cost, undertakes to make it into butter, greatly to the satisfaction of the younger members of the household, to whom "apple butter" is a treat to be eagerly welcomed.

One of the most interesting features of the cider mill is to be found at the time of its opening for the day's work.

Doctor

Pronounced My Case
Incurable,

Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure
Brought Good Health.

"I have every reason to recommend the Dr. Miles Remedies as the Heart Cure saved my life. I am a large man, considerably over six feet in height, weigh nearly three hundred pounds. Some years ago my heart was so seriously affected that I never expected to get well. Doctors pronounced my case incurable. I noticed your advertisement in some paper, and bought six bottles of the Heart Cure. I felt great relief and improved so I continued until I had taken twelve bottles. My trouble was organic and I never expected to be permanently cured, but thanks to Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, I have kept in good health and have been able to follow my profession continually since first taking the remedies eight years ago. I am a musician, teacher of instrumental and vocal music, musical conductor, etc. I have taught all over the state of Michigan and have recommended Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to thousands of persons in all parts of the state and have heard nothing but good reports of it. I have induced dozens of persons in my own county to take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure as my word is never doubted by those who know me."—C. H. Smith, Flint, Mich.

"I am a druggist and have sold and recommended Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, for I know what it has done for me, and I wish I could state more clearly the splendid good health I am enjoying now. Your Restorative Nerve gives excellent satisfaction."—Dr. T. H. Watts, Druggist, Hot Springs, S. D.

No matter how early the hour may be, long lines of wagons are waiting at its doors, the foremost of which gradually make way for those in the rear, who by the time their turn comes have waited frequently for hours. Indeed, it is no uncommon sight to see twenty-five wagons drawn up around a cider mill, the occupants of which are patiently waiting their turn to be served.

It may be asked why more mills are not started to meet this demand. Several answers might be given to this question, but it will be sufficient to mention one point. When the load of apples has gone through the various stages of the mill, and the farmer has carried the cider to his wagon, the proprietor hands him a small slip on which he has reckoned his bill, figuring his services as so much per gallon. And, what is the rate? Our friend has driven away in the direction of his home, bearing with him seventy-five gallons of cider, and has handed the owner of the mill seventy-five cents in payment of his services. It will not need a very elaborate system of reasoning to determine the standard of payment in vogue at the mill, and when it is seen that this amounts to the princely sum of one cent per gallon, and it is taken into consideration that the season of the mill is but three months, a person can soon see the immense profits in the cider making business, and can appreciate the fact that there must be many capitalists in that line.

PESTHOUSE A NUISANCE

Say Youngstown Citizens, Who Want
An Injunction Against The City.

Lisbon, November 11.—(Special).—A case in which the trustees of Youngstown township are plaintiffs against the city of Youngstown, was heard in circuit court yesterday, having come up on appeal from Judge Robinson's court in Youngstown. The trustees seek to enjoin the city from building an addition to its pest house, which is situated outside the city on the Austintown road, and to have the nuisance abated.

In their petition the trustees allege the pest house is a nuisance, and that such an institution could not lawfully exist without their consent.

The city claims that when the pest house was established in 1878, no such consent was required, and they are rightfully on the premises. They deny that the pest house is a nuisance, but say it is a benefit. Judge Robinson last Monday refused to issue an injunction. The case was tried here upon affidavits and evidence submitted to the court.

SEWER COMMISSION

Held a Meeting And Allowed Bills
Amounting to About $4,500.

The board of sewer commissioners held a meeting last night in the office of F. H. Croxall, attended by Messrs. J. G. Lee, Daniel Nellis, George Peach and City Engineer J. C. Kelly. No new business was transacted, but bills amounting to a few dollars less than $4,500 were allowed.

One of the principal bills was the final payment to John A. George & Sons, who were voted their last installment for a sewer constructed in Rural lane, Ravine street and Thompson avenue. John Ryan was allowed his first installment for the sewer improvement on West Market street, Halles street and Green lane.

BILLS ALLOWED

AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING OF CLAIMS COMMITTEE.

Chief Thompson's Claim For $750
Held Over For Further Investigation.

Claims committee met last night and passed upon a number of bills. Clerk Willis Davidson took advantage of the first day of the open-hunting season, and was in the woods all of yesterday. Owing to the fact that several of the officials believed Mr. Davidson would not return in time, a few of the regular bills were not presented. They will be attached to the payroll.

The bills passed upon follow:
The Stark county workhouse, $185.75; Ruggles, Gales Co., criminal dock, et. $16; Ohio Valley Gas Co., $3.80; Watson & Sloan, supplies, $4.23; West & King, supplies, $2.65; Ceramic City Light Co., $863.05; Wilson Stationery Co., supplies, $2.50; Sanitary Reduction Co., $100; Charles T. Larkins, supplies, $2.35; Crocker City Ice Co., ice, $2.40; Operative Potter Publishing Co., $7.50; Union Printing Co., $1.75; East Liverpool Spring Water Co., $1.40; J. H. Burgess, salary, $65; C. B. Ogden, salary, $40; T. V. Thompson, prisoners and workhouse, $38.75; Police department, payroll, $647.12; American Sewer Pipe Co., $37.21; Sarah Haught, janitress, $12; George S. Walton, clerk of the board of deputy state supervisors of elections for Columbiana county, expenses of preparing registration, $264.15; Willis Davidson, salary as clerk, $68.25.

Chief of Police Thompson was in with a bill for $7.50, claimed due for serving notices on shanty boat residents to vacate the city's premises. The committee believed the duty of serving notices upon residents of the passage of resolutions and ordinances was a part of his regular routine work, and the bill was held over.

The payroll of the street department was not in, neither was that of Fire Chief Morley. These accounts will be looked over today, and regularly placed upon the payroll.

A High Compliment.

The Globe Wernicke company, for which Lewis Bros. are the agents in this city, reproduces in miniature a page of the News Review containing Lewis Bros.' ad as published in these columns, and is sending it out by the thousands as a circular. The ad, which is neat and attractive, like all News Review ads, contains a reference to the recent fire in the Harker building and begins by asking: "Did you see the Globe Wernicke sectional book cases come out of the fire?" The reproduction is both a compliment to Lewis Bros. as ad-writers and to the News Review as an ad-displayer.

Constipation

Will Undermine
Your Health.

Mull's Grape Tonic Cures Constipation.

When the sewer of a city becomes stopped up, the refuse backs into the streets where it decays and rots, spreading disease-creating germs throughout the entire city. An epidemic of sickness follows. It is the same way when the bowels fail to work. The undigested food backs into the system and there it rots and decays. From this festering mass the blood saps up all the disease germs, and at every heart beat carries them to every tissue just as the water works of a city forces impure water into every house. The only way to cure a condition like this is to cure the constipation. Pills and the ordinary cathartics will do no good.

MULL'S GRAPE TONIC
is a crushed fruit tonic-laxative which permanently cures the affliction. The tonic properties contained in the grape go into every afflicted tissue and creates strength and health. It will quickly restore lost flesh and make rich, red blood. As a laxative its action is immediate and positive, gentle and natural. Mull's Grape Tonic is guaranteed or money back.

supper held recently. This enables the auxiliary more than to make up the $750 pledged by it to the association.

No Money Due Here.—Alex Campbell, of this city, brother of Miss Lizzie Campbell, who drowned herself at Wellsville, says there is no truth in the report that his sister had been worried about money due her in East Liverpool, as there was nobody here owing her. She had worked hard and worried herself sick about other matters.

Car Off the Track.—Car No. 11 of the Rock Springs railway jumped the track at the corner of Third and Market streets this morning at about 10 o'clock and that the eight passengers abroad escaped injury is due to nothing but the fact that the motorman, Joe Watson, had full control of the car and was allowing it to go at a very moderate rate of speed. After leaving the rails the car slid but a few feet and barring the loss by the delay of traffic, no damage resulted.

Sunday School Association.—A meeting of the City Sunday School association will be held this evening in the First U. P. church for the purpose of electing officers and preparing for a vigorous campaign during the winter. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock. Secretary Clark's recent visit to the city has had a good effect upon those interested in Sunday school work, and it is probable that much good will be accomplished in the coming season.

SOCIAL EVENTS

THREE HUNDRED GUESTS

Delightfully Entertained By the Ben Hur Tribe at Grand Army Hall.

At the Grand Army hall last evening Crookery City court of Ben Hur entertained their friends most delightfully. Will Green, president of the court, and Chris Hall, chairman of the social committee, assisted by the members of the order, were untiring in their efforts to entertain the 300 guests present.

The first part of the evening was devoted to the program which follows: Piano solo, Miss Whitlock; piano graph selection, Porter Herbert; vocal selection, Dr. Mowen's male quartet; address, Miss Lancy McElhane; vocal solo, Mr. Wineman; address, Miss Alice Easley; recitation, Dr. J. H. Davis.

Each number on the program received the applause of the audience. The program concluded, boxes containing fruits and other edibles were sold amounting to nearly $40.

The refreshment committee also served ice cream and cake, and the large company spent a most enjoyable evening and went home reluctantly at a late hour.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will be entertained by Mrs. Alvin Bulger and Mrs. William Wilson at the residence of Mrs. Wilson on Third and Jefferson streets Thursday afternoon, November 13, from 2:30 to 4:30. The members of the auxiliary are cordially invited to attend. Owing to the lack of time, no formal invitations will be issued; newspaper notice serving the purpose.

Birthday Party.

At the home of Herman Roth, in Church alley, about twenty-five friends assembled to celebrate the thirty-fourth birthday of Mr. Roth. Games and music occupied the time and the host was the recipient of a number of gifts. A fine supper was served and was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Missionary Society Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Ladies' Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. All members are requested to be present, to make arrangements for the Sunday preceding Thanksgiving, which will be devoted to the Home Missionary society.

A Euchre Party.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Month last evening 25 couples of young married people were delightfully entertained. Euchre was the chief diversion, after which choice refreshments were served.

Christmas Day Music.

Miss Elizabeth Hamill, who is organist and director of a chorus of 20 voices, will render a special program on Christmas day at St. Aloysius' church. Rehearsals are being held three times a week.

In Honor of a Guest.

In honor of Miss Euphemia Boyce Huston, of St. Paul, Minn., former principal of our high school, Mrs. N. A. Frederick will entertain her friends at fancy work tomorrow afternoon.

Arranging for Rummage Sale.

movement that would effect the entire world. For this great improvement just such men are needed, Congress and President Roosevelt surely cannot disregard the appeals of such notables as General Charles H. Grosvenor, one of the most influential congressmen in the United States; United States Senator Foraker, the silver-tongued orator of Ohio; United States Senator Scott, Congressmen Doyener, Taylor and many others. Their view of the mammoth question briefly summarized is as follows:

"The United States is in better shape, financially, today than ever before for carrying through this greatly needed improvement. We have plenty of money. The Ohio is the greatest inland waterway in the world. The project is national in importance and the sum of money it would cost is insignificant in comparison with the immense amount of good to the whole nation which would be the immediate result."

President Roosevelt, it will be seen by the following statement made by him while addressing a Cincinnati audience, will do all within his power to help the movement to a successful end:

"You will prosper even more than at present as the great waterways are made more accessible to larger vessels from here to the gulf and that will take place coincidentally with the beginning of the great work which is to connect the Pacific and the Atlantic by an isthmian canal—a work destined to be one of the giant performances, one of the giant material works of the twentieth century—a work surpassing in magnitude anything of the kind that has ever before been attempted in the history of mankind. Under the theory of our national government, which was invoked when this country became a part of the nation, the nation must continue to do its part in helping secure the prosperity of Cincinnati and of the entire Ohio valley by seeing that the improvement of the Ohio is continued."

East Liverpool sent one of the largest delegations. Congressman Taylor was recognized as belonging to it. The East Liverpool members were placed on important committees by Colonel Vance.

avenue. Mr. Culbertson turned after the second shot and sent a bullet speeding after the one going toward the avenue.

Besides dazing him the awful blow had disarranged Mr. Culbertson's entire system, but he managed to crawl and hobble to his home which is not a hundred yards distant.

He was suffering awful agony and one spasm of pain followed another. His condition alarmed Mrs. Culbertson, who was alone in the house when he reached it, and she immediately telephoned for Dr. Davis. The police were informed of the affair at about the same time.

Dr. Davis examined the injury and found the glands and muscles of the neck considerably swollen. The skin was not broken and it can be reasoned from this that the blow was dealt with some smooth instrument, probably a billie. An anaesthetic was administered by the physician last night to relieve him of the excruciating pain.

Officer Fisher responded promptly to the summons sent to the police station and made a thorough search of the neighborhood, but could find no trace of the men.

A News Review reporter called at the Culbertson home this morning and found the injured man still in great pain. He told the story as given above. When asked about the appearance of the assailants he said: "It was too dark and I was too dazed by the blow to see them clearly. One of them was of small stature, rather inclined toward corpulence, and wore a slouch hat, black coat and white overalls. I have no idea of the appearance of the other one."

Dr. Davis told a reporter this morning that the blow had no doubt been struck with force enough to have caused death had it landed a few inches higher. "It must have certainly fractured the skull had it struck it," he said.

Mr. Culbertson was no doubt saved from being foully murdered by his great height and the smallness in stature of his assailant. He is considerably over six feet in height.

The robbers had not progressed far enough to find the big roll of money Mr. Culbertson carried in one of his trousers pockets and only secured about $4 in silver. Mr. Culbertson is confident that one of them at least paid dearly for their ill-gotten gains for the awful oath as they started to run after he fired the first shot sounded like a howl of pain.

Since the holdup of George Culbertson several stories of similar attempts are being told. The scene of last night's attempt has been considered dangerous for a long time by the people of the neighborhood as it offers peculiar advantages for this sort of business. During the past three weeks a number of ladies and young girls have been accosted by villainous-looking characters and they have come to shun the road after nightfall unless accompanied by a male escort. One night about two weeks ago, Curtis Culbertson, a son of last night's victim, had an experience in exactly the same spot. He was going to his home from Harker's pottery, where he is employed as a turner and when passing under the tree on the east side of the school building his attention was attracted by something striking at his feet. He lighted a match but could find nothing but a good sized stone.

He concluded to investigate and retraced his steps for a short distance. As he neared the tree a man stepped out and started to run. Culbertson was unarmed but started in pursuit. He was outdistanced and the fellow was soon lost in the darkness.

Culbertson is of the opinion that it was the intention of the man to hold him up and that the stone was thrown to attract his attention the object being to strike him while stooping down.

supper held recently. This enables the auxiliary more than to make up the $750 pledged by it to the association.

No Money Due Here — Alex Campbell, of this city, brother of Miss Lizzy Campbell, who drowned herself at Wellsville, says there is no truth in the report that his sister had been worried about money due her in East Liverpool, as there was nobody here owing her. She had worked hard and worried herself sick about other matters.

Car Off the Track—Car No. 14 of the Rock Springs railway jumped the track at the corner of Third and Market streets this morning at about 10 o'clock and that the eight passengers abroad escaped injury is due to nothing but the fact that the motorman, Joe Watson, had full control of the car and was allowing it to go at a very moderate rate of speed. After leaving the rails the car slid but a few feet and barring the loss by the delay of traffic, no damage resulted.

Sunday School Association—A meeting of the City Sunday School association will be held this evening in the First U. P. church for the purpose of electing officers and preparing for a vigorous campaign during the winter. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock. Secretary Clark's recent visit to the city has had a good effect upon those interested in Sunday school work, and it is probable that much good will be accomplished in the coming season.

The first part of the evening was devoted to the program which follows: Piano solo, Miss Whitlock; phonograph selection, Porter Herbert; vocal selection, Dr. Mowen's male quartet; address, Miss Lancy McElhane; vocal solo, Mr. Wineman; address, Miss Alice Eardley; recitation, Dr. J. H. Davis.

Each number on the program received the applause of the audience. The program concluded, boxes containing fruits and other edibles were sold amounting to nearly $40.

movement that would effect the entire world. For this great improvement just such men are needed. Congress and President Roosevelt surely cannot disregard the appeals of such notables as General Charles H. Grosvenor, one of the most influential congressmen in the United States; United States Senator Foraker, the silver tongued orator of Ohio; United States Senator Scott, Congressmen Boyener, Taylor and many others. Their view of the mammoth question briefly summarized is as follows:

"The United States is in better shape, financially, today than ever before for carrying through this greatly needed improvement. We have plenty of money. The Ohio is the greatest inland waterway in the world. The project is national in importance and the sum of money it would cost is insignificant in comparison with the immense amount of good to the whole nation which would be the immediate result."

President Roosevelt, it will be seen by the following statement made by him while addressing a Cincinnati audience, will do all within his power to help the movement to a successful end:

"You will prosper even more than at present as the great waterways are made more accessible to larger vessels from here to the gulf and that will take place coincidentally with the beginning of the great work which is to connect the Pacific and the Atlantic by an isthmian canal—a work destined to be one of the giant performances, one of the giant material works of the twentieth century—a work surpassing in magnitude anything of the kind that has ever before been attempted in the history of mankind. Under the theory of our national government, which was invoked when this country became a part of the nation, the nation must continue to do its part in helping secure the prosperity of Cincinnati and of the entire Ohio valley by seeing that the improvement of the Ohio is continued."

East Liverpool sent one of the largest delegations. Congressman Taylor was recognized as belonging to it. The East Liverpool members were placed on important committees by Colonel Vance.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 11.—John Perew dove 50 feet and rescued a drowning man here yesterday. John Dugan fell from a boat at the Pittsburg Coal company's plant. Perew was at work on the machinery, 50 feet above the water. Dugan was going down for the third time. Perew sprang and cleared the boat. He seized Dugan just in time. The men were hauled on board, the water was pumped out of Dugan and he revived.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF OHIO RIVER CHAMPIONS OPENS AT PARKERSBURG

Distinguished Men From All Parts of the Great Valley Present, Working Earnestly for the Cause.

Parkersburg, W. Va., November 11.—(Special)—The city is crowded with enthusiasts on the subject of improved navigation for the Ohio river. These enthusiasts are among the most prominent and influential of the citizens making up the 13,000,000 population of the Ohio valley. Among them are governors of states, United States senators, congressmen, manufacturers of wide reputation, and men whose personal checks would be good for millions.

The meeting of the Ohio River Improvement association which opened this morning at 10 o'clock, is certainly destined to be great and memorable. The forenoon was largely devoted to welcoming speeches and routine work, but even in this the temper of the great assembly was apparent. The workers for river improvement are in earnest and their plans to bring about that improvement are practical and not visionary.

Governor White welcomed the convention in an eloquent speech, in which he outlined at much length the greatness of the Ohio valley and the interests, not only of West Virginia, but of the whole country, therein. He was followed by J. W. Vandervort, mayor of Parkersburg, E. M. Gilkeson, of this city, spoke for the Business Men's league. President John L. Vance, of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, responded in a forcible address on the importance of the work before the convention.

Organization, reports, and business matters occupied the attention of the convention until noon.

This afternoon was devoted to addresses. Among those booked to speak were Senator Elkins, Foraker and Scott; Congressman Dovenor, Grosvenor, Dalzell and Hemingway; Col. George H. Anderson, secretary of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce, and Hon. John F. Dravo, of the Pittsburg Coal Exchange, with an opportunity for short speeches by others desiring to make them.

Parkersburg is gaily decorated and is giving the many hundreds of visitors royal entertainment.

One of the most notable features of the convention is the attendance of men high in public life, men who have weight, men who by their oratorical and intellectual abilities could start a

COWARDLY AND CRUEL HUSBAND

For Brutality to His Wife and Family Will Likely Spend a Long Term at the Workhouse.

Suffering with nervous prostration as the result of her husband's cruel actions, Mrs. Alfred Rose lies at her home in the Peach block on College street in a precarious condition, and the husband, for his display of barbarism, will be an inmate of the Canton workhouse at hard labor for exactly 161 days.

After he had carried on at his home in a most disgraceful manner for more than an hour Rose was arrested last evening at 9 o'clock by Officers Dawson and Morris, upon the request of Miss Maude Rose, a daughter, who, though she hated awfully to do so, having fearful anticipations of the shame that the arrest of her father would bring on the family, was compelled to summon the police in order that the life of her mother might be saved.

To the city jail the man who in former years, it is said, was a good husband and father and a respected citizen, but now nothing less than a degraded brute, was taken by the officers and assigned to a cell. Upon his incarceration he became very indignant and said that he would show a certain set of people whether or not they could get revenge on him by having him arrested for a wrong that he never committed. He said that he would prove this morning that he was not guilty and demanded a trial at 10 o'clock.

However, by morning the effect of some of the booze, which, it seems, had been his most intimate companion for many months, had slightly died away and he was not nearly so anxious to have the true state of affairs aired in court. After a short deliberation he asked that a hearing be granted him. This done, he, without offering any excuse, pleaded guilty to the charge and received a fine of $25 and costs, in default of which he will be sent to the workhouse.

In giving sentence Mayor Davidson turned on all of his latent reprimanding abilities and the lecture that Rose received was enough to make a man without a conscience and past all hopes of ever recovering from the depths of debasement quiver and wish that his days on earth were at an end. He said:

"Rose, from all that I can learn, this is not the first time that you have acted in this manner at your home. Your reputation is that of a man too low and degraded to be allowed to inhabit a civilized community. I understand that for months you have not contributed one cent toward the maintenance of your family. A man of your physical strength, able to provide well for a family, and instead of doing so spending all for drink, should be horsewhipped. Up at your home now lies your wife, a woman respected by every person who knows her, in a condition that may result seriously, and all is due to your inhuman treatment. That you are guilty to the charge is a self evident fact to me.

"No man could be guiltless when his wife and children are compelled to resort to the police for protection. Entire families do not turn against a father and husband without good cause. You ought to be so ashamed of

JOHN ALLISON IN AGAIN

Released from Wellsville Jail Only to Land Behind the Bars in This City.

John Allison is in durance vile again. And it is the first time for many months that he has been behind the bars with a charge other than theft against him. This time it is only a common drunk charge. He was picked up last evening by Officer McDermott while taking Second street in at every stride. He had in his possession when landed at the city hall $2.75, three packages of tobacco, one sack of coffee, a loaf of bread and numerous other articles.

Allison will be let off with $5.50, inasmuch as it is his first incarceration since he was released from jail at Wellsville yesterday.

Licensed to Marry.
Lisbon, November 11.—(Special)—Frank Edward Bertschey, Wheeling, W. Va., and Anna Stephenson, of Lisbon, have been licensed to marry.

John Degarmo, Lisbon, and Miss Mary Warner, Negley.

Death of an Infant.
The four-days-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMillen died this morning at their home on Sheridan avenue. The burial will take place at 2 o'clock at Riverview.

Fined $5.50—John Ebert appeared before Mayor Davidson last evening and without parleying pleaded guilty to committing an assault on A. C. Roe. He was fined $5.50 for the offense.

A REPUBLICAN CLUB IS MUCH NEEDED

This Is the Consensus of Opinion of Members of the Central Committee.

TO GET OUT FULL VOTE

Various Plans Were Suggested And Discussed—Plenty of Money on Hand to Settle All Bills Incurred During the Recent Campaign.

The city Republican central committee held a meeting at city hall last night at which there was a good turnout. The purpose of the meeting was to settle up the affairs of the organization for the campaign just closed. The expenses were not great, and it was found when all bills had been presented there was plenty of money with which to liquidate all indebtedness.

During the progress of the meeting a question was broached which, while not a new one by any means, has nevertheless been a source of much concern to not only the city committee but the Republicans generally. Aside from presidential year, it is seldom that the full Republican vote is out, and in spite of every effort put forth by the committee in the recent election, there were a large number of stay-at-homes. It was brought out at the meeting last night that this condition was probably due to a lack of proper ward and precinct organization. Many suggestions were made looking to the inauguration of a systematic and vigorous movement which would result in a full vote being polled on every occasion.

While the plan was not mentioned last night it is known that a number of members of the committee are of the opinion that the best method that could possibly be employed to bring about the desired result would be the institution of a Republican club, which would be permanent and influential, taking in members of the party from every section of the city. This plan is tabooed by party leaders, on account of the fact that the last club of this character existing here for several years, was not the success it might have been. There are many reasons for the lack of interest in the old McKinley club, and it would be ancient history to recall them at this time.

The central committee would be glad to lend assistance to a movement of this sort, and it is acknowledged that a Republican club would be of vastly more use as a means of getting out the vote of every election than by the methods now employed.

That Fate Ahead of Grover Tasker Unless He Promptly Puts Up $9.50.

Unless Grover Tasker, a young man yet in his teens, produces $9.50 by this evening he will accompany Alfred Rose to the workhouse tomorrow morning. Tasker was arrested last evening at the opera house by Special Officer Weaver and was placed in the city jail with a charge of disorderly fighting against him.

Charles Baker was also arrested by Officer Weaver, but later was released. It being found that he was fighting in self-defense.

SUIT BROUGHT FOR $1,000

Against An Administrator, the Controversy Growing Out of a Promissory Note.

Lisbon, November 11.—(Special)—Robert Campbell has brought suit against W. S. Potts, as administrator of the estate of John Matthews for $1,000.

The amount is claimed on a note which was given to the deceased by Charles Matthews, who assigned it to Campbell. The latter claimed the administrator refused to endorse it when it was presented to him.

Several Bones Broken.

Salem, November 11.—Lewis Lacey, a young colored man of this city, met with what may prove a very serious accident at Alliance, and as a result is in the Alliance city hospital severely injured. While attempting to board a moving street car at the front end he was struck by the car and hurled several feet. He was picked up unconscious, with several bones broken.

THE INSTITUTES FOR THE FARMERS

Dates and Speakers for Gatherings of Columbiana County Agriculturists.

ANOTHER ERROR IN CODE

Which, However, Is Not Expected Seriously to Impair It—List of Pharmacists Lately Licensed—Life-Sentence Man Gets a Pardon.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, November 11.—A bulletin has been issued by the state board of agriculture giving detailed information on the farmers' institutes to be held in the different counties of the state under the auspices of the board this winter. Three mills per capita is allowed each county for local institute expenses, the fund for Columbiana county being $125, which will be equally divided among the institutes. The places, dates, names and addresses of presidents, secretaries and lecturers of the Columbiana county institutes are as follows: New Waterford, December 12 and 13, president, J. W. Cope, New Waterford; secretary, W. T. Cuthall, New Waterford; lecturers, John Begg, Columbus Grove, Putnam county; C. I. McCormick, Gallia county.

Lisbon, January 9 and 10, president, Homer Shelton, Teegarden; secretary, John Patterson, Lisbon; lecturers, John L. Shawver, Bellefontaine, Logan county; Charles McIntyre, Chancellorsville, Muskingum county.

Damascus, January 30 and 31, president, D. J. Powell, Damascus; secretary, Mrs. S. J. Santer, Damascus; lecturers, John Begg, Columbus Grove, Putnam county; Rei Rathbun, Springfield, Clark county.

The places for the Columbiana county institutes were given in this correspondence some time ago, but the dates and assignment of speakers had not been made at that time. Lecturers occupy about one-half of the time of each session with short, practical talks on farm topics, the other half being taken up by general discussion of those present and in answering questions. The institute proper consists of five sessions, morning, afternoon and evening of the first day and morning and afternoon of the second day.

The state board of pharmacy has given out the result of the October examination of applicants for pharmacists' licenses. About 30 per cent. of the number examined failed. Among the successful applicants who have been granted certificates are the following: Satisfactory pharmacists—Frank Sanda, East Palestine; William C. Shanks, Wellsville; Arthur H. Thomas, Columbiana; Fred T. Bennett, Lisbon; Charles E. Bradshaw, former of East Liverpool, now of Niles; Emmet B. Cary, of Alliance, was given an assistant pharmacist's certificate.

Another mistake has been discovered in the code. Two different fiscal years is provided pertaining to the same subject. One makes the taxation year extend from April 1 each year to April 1 of the succeeding year. Elsewhere it is provided that the fiscal year shall begin January 1 and end December 31. There is no doubt but that a number of minor errors will crop out from time to time in the code, but it is not anticipated they will seriously impair it, nor is it thought that the court would consent to knock out the law at this time were test cases brought to test its validity because of the chaotic condition which would result. The code is not perfect, as every one knows, and one of the duties the next legislature will be called upon to perform will be to correct its infirmities.

Governor Nash will attend the "On to Cairo" meeting, to be held under the auspices of the Ohio River Improvement association at Parkersburg, W. Va., but will not be present on the opening day.

Governor Nash has pardoned Henry Wehrli, serving a life sentence from Tuscarawas county. It is granted on condition that he abstain from the use of liquor. Wehrli shot a man named Booth, using a shot gun, on Christmas day, 1900, after a night spent in debauch by each which resulted in a quarrel. Wehrli was sentenced to be hung, but escaped the gallows through Governor McKinley commuting the sentence to life imprisonment. The prosecuting attorney said he feels the verdict should have been manslaughter.

MAKING ANOTHER SURVEY FOR AN ELECTRIC RAILWAY TO REACH EAST LIVERPOOL

Surveyor Says a Line Connecting Youngstown, Salem, Lisbon and This City Is a Certainty.

Salem, November 11.—Prospects for an electric railway line between Youngstown and East Liverpool, touching Salem and Lisbon, a project that has been hanging in the air for two years or more, look brighter at present, and there are indications which lead one to believe the road will be built in the near future.

A party of four surveyors from Lisbon arrived in this city yesterday. The party included J. F. Spence, C. R. Gaskill, C. W. Bick and D. C. Spence. The first named was in charge and acted as spokesman when there was anything to be said. The men stopped at the Falkenberg, and will be in this city for a day or two while they work south. At present they are merely restaking a line which was surveyed between this city and East Liverpool, through Lisbon, two years ago. J. F. Spence made the survey then and he has, of course, a good idea as to the location of the old stakes. The work of running over the old line to East Liverpool will be completed within two weeks, it is believed. Then the party will return here and make the actual survey to East Liverpool. After that is done a survey will be made between Salem and Youngstown.

J. F. Spence talked to some extent about the project, but some points he refused to be quoted on. To a reporter he said:

"We are simply restaking an old line in East Liverpool which I made two years ago. We are working for the Youngstown, Salem, Lisbon & East Liverpool Electric Railway Co. Our line will run direct from Salem to Lisbon, and thence to the river at East Liverpool. We will have spurs from the main line to Leetonia and Columbiana. The route from this city to Youngstown I cannot mention at this time."

"Is this line a part of the one in which A. W. Jones and J. H. Ruhlman, of Youngstown, are interested, which has for its purpose the reaching of Columbiana from Youngstown?" the scribe queried.

"You did not hear me say so, did you?" Mr. Spence replied. "I cannot tell you now who is behind the project, but it ought to be sufficient for me to say that before we started out on the survey this time the matter had been

Geo. Culbertson, Well Known East End Citizen, Victim of Footpads—Used Pistol and Routed Them.

Like the hiss of a viper came the awful imprecation of a highwayman to George Culbertson at about 9 o'clock last night as he was passing the Horace Mann school building, a hundred yards from Pennsylvania avenue, in the East End. But more cowardly than the reptile, the robber gave no time for the victim to protect himself until an awful blow was struck. That it did not carry foul murder with it was only because it did not strike where intended by the cowardly assassin and robbers.

Mr. Culbertson had left home early in the evening for Wellsville, taking with him money, about $157, to pay for a car of bricks. On the way down his eye began paining him to such an extent that he concluded to abandon the trip and left the car to go to a doctor's office. After having the eye treated and making some small purchases he boarded another car for his home, alighting near the main entrance to Columbian park. The cross street leading to his home is unlighted and there are a number of vacant lots which are grown up with high weeds. The light from the flint mill shines along the street in such a way as to blind one walking toward it, and at the school building there is a large tree affording excellent concealment. The entire aspect of the place is such as to favor attempts of this nature.

When Mr. Culbertson left the car his first thoughts were of highwaymen and he drew his revolver from his pocket and walked along with it in his hand. Before reaching the spot where he was attacked the thoughts of highwaymen had slipped entirely from his mind and he was not on his guard when he heard a human voice hiss: "Now I've got you, you ———" A second later he received an awful blow on the back of the neck. The blow was a vicious one, no doubt intended to crush him to death, or at least into insensibility. It was struck from the rear and to the left and Mr. Culbertson fell on his face and right shoulder. His assailants no doubt thought that the terrific blow they had dealt had accomplished the desired end, for they did not strike him again but pounced upon him like hungry beasts of prey.

Mr. Culbertson was almost insensible from the blow but could dimly realize that his assailants had turned him over and one of them was rifling his pockets. He still grasped the revolver, but his arm was cramped in such a way that he could not use it. In a moment, however, the man who was bending over him changed his position in such a way that the arm was freed and Mr. Culbertson, taking the best aim possible under the circumstances, pulled the trigger. There was a horrible oath and the hand was quickly drawn from the pocket.

The nerve of the robbers was gone and they started to run. With the greatest of difficulty Mr. Culbertson raised himself to his knees and fired again at one of the fleeing forms. The robbers had taken the opposite direction, one going directly west, and the other toward Pennsylvania

SAVING ON PACKING.

The potteries that are making scheme goods have adopted the use of second-hand barrels as an economy for packing, and it is impossible at present to secure enough of them. The potters are paying seventeen cents and twenty cents for cracker and sugar barrels respectively, while the new packages cost thirty-eight—something of a saving. These scheme goods are sold so close that everything in connection with their manufacture is cut to the lowest possible limit.

CHANGE IN NAME.

The name of the Crooksville Art Pottery Co., of Crooksville, has been changed to the Crooksville China Co. When the company was first incorporated, it was the intention to manufacture a line of art ware, but a change in plans was made and the company will make white ware. The five kiln plant will be devoted entirely to the production of this class of goods.

ZANESVILLE'S NEW LINES.

The J. B. Owens pottery, of Zanesville, is putting several new lines upon the American market which seem to have made a hit. Some of the best effects are in quadruple blends and are now being exhibited for the first time in public. The jars and other shapes in which these blends are introduced are made from 8-inch to 16-inch in height.

MADE NIGHT HIDEOUS.

The Italians employed in making the grade for the C. & P. double track were on a rampage Saturday night. Their shanties along the hillside above Harker's pottery were the scene and they made the night hideous with their cries and screams. James Means, who is firing a kiln at Harker's, was an interested listener to the melee.

FERGUSON IMPROVING.

S. M. Ferguson, general manager of the East Liverpool Potteries company, who was seriously injured in a street car accident some two weeks ago, is beginning to get around again with the aid of a cane, and expects to resume work before the close of the present week.

DOING A BIG BUSINESS.

Harkers are packing a car of mixed ware this week for shipment to St. Paul, Minn. This pottery is enjoying a big business and the orders have been so numerous of late that the shipments have been made from ware just from the kilns. All the departments are being worked to their full capacity.

ADVANCED.

Frank Johnston and Francis Beaver have been advanced from apprentices to journeymen in the biscuit kiln crew at Harker's. The event was celebrated by them by passing around the cigars among their bench mates.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Miss Bertie Cook, a taker-off at Harker's, has resigned.

Miss Elizabeth Elliott has accepted a situation at Thompson's.

Miss Annie O'Donnell has taken a position as finisher at Harker's.

W. Lownds has left the China works and accepted a position as dipper at Brunt's.

Norman Grubb, of Bradford, Pa., has accepted a position in the slip house at Thompson's.

James Fox, a jiggerman from Murphy's, has gone on at Harker's as an apprentice kiln hand.

William Rigby, of the dipping department at Harker's, was reported on the sick list yesterday.

Miss Della Hoskins, of the decorating room at Thompson's, is back at work again after an illness.

Miss Mabel Foster, of the decorating room at the Thompson, has returned from a visit with Pittsburgh friends.

Miss Emma Hanley, of Harker's, has been confined to her home on Railroad street for several days with sickness.

Miss Orilla Treese, of the decorating room at Thompson's, returned to work yesterday after a week's illness.

William Costlow and Charley Roser, pressers at Harker's, are back at work again after being ill for a week or more.

It is a strong probability that six biscuit kilns will be made each pay at Harker's instead of five, as is now the case. An extra jiggerman will be put on.

Teddy McDermott, of the glost kiln crew at Harker's, was a visitor to Pittsburgh Sunday.

Earl Coleman has resigned as bench boss in the biscuit end at the K. T. & K., and accepted a situation in the biscuit end at Thompson's.

Mrs. Minnie Nolan has resigned as forelady of the biscuit warehouse at the Thompson to accept a situation as filler-in in the decorating department.

Albert McDole, the well known potteryman, of Sebring, who recently came to this city, has taken a position in the glost kiln crew at Harker's.

James Stanley, bench boss of the glost kiln crew at Harker's, has moved into his new house on Bradshaw avenue, where he is now most comfortably situated.

Miss Billie Ward, of the decorating room at the Thompson, has been very sick for the past few days and her sister, Miss Rose, has been filling her position.

Miss Mary Ward, of the decorating department at the Thompson, will leave in a few days for Sebring, where she will visit her brother, John, for a few days.

Nelson Eisenhuth, presser at the K. T. & K., who was injured several weeks ago in an elevator accident, is improving, though not yet able to return to work.

STEUBENVILLE

A DOLEFUL WAIL SET UP ANENT THE FOOT BALL ROW.

One of the Newspapers Complains of Unfair Tactics And Gives Its Side at Length.

The following are the comments of the Steubenville Herald-Star on the football fracas of Saturday:

One of the rankest places along the entire length of the Ohio valley for foot ball or any other kind of athletics to flourish is in the miasmatic sporting community of East Liverpool. Somehow they cannot be straight or courteous to visiting teams. Some years ago the S. A. C. foot ball team went up there to play, and they chased the Steubenville referee off the field. The young man in question is held in high esteem here by those opposite him politically, and in every way and he would not stoop to do anything unfair even for his own team. We refer to S. E. Loftus. To top it all off they mobbed the players at the depot. From that day to this they felt so guilty that they could not be persuaded to come here and play, fearing they would get paid back in like coin, whereas Steubenville will not see outside players given the wrong end of deals, McFadden, the basket ball player, to the contrary. The boys here treat visiting teams more royally and courteously than teams are treated elsewhere. What East Liverpool did Saturday is an injury to sports and is low down practice, and they should feel ashamed to engage in sports of any class. It was infinitesimally little and childish for men to be mixed up in. It is now up to them if they are not rank quakers and want to show that they are game to take up Capt. Needham's challenge to play on some neutral ground, say Toronto. It is dollars to doughnuts they will squirm out of accepting the challenge.

Saturday's game put the right brand on the East Liverpool players. It was a short game, only lasting about two minutes and a half and there it ended, due to the dirty, unfair tactics of East Liverpool players. Even some of the spectators who were robbed out of their money and none refunded, objected to the tactics of the East Liverpool players and stated that our local referee was all right in his decision. East Liverpool kicked off and Burns, who got the ball, returned it 15 yards. Burns hit the line for 30 yards in three downs and it was easy sailing hitting the East Liverpool quitters. In attempting an end run a fumble was made and East Liverpool got the ball. On the second down the East Liverpool quarterback did not pass the ball, was wedged in against the line and in a few seconds threw the ball forward and it was gotten by one of their players and he made a touchdown, and Burns, who could have stopped the latter play, did not, as the whistle had blown. Referee Doyle decided it a forward pass and ordered the ball back. East Liverpool would not listen to this and wanted the referee put out of the game, but our boys would not stand for it and so the game was called. The East Liverpool captain refused to pay our players' expenses and would not refund money to spectators.

No Money Due Here—Alex Campbell, of this city, brother of Miss Lizzie Campbell, who drowned herself at Wellsville, says there is no truth in the report that his sister had been worried about money due her in East Liverpool, as there was nobody here owing her. She had worked hard and worried herself sick about other matters.

Car Off the Track—Car No. 13 of the Rock Springs railway jumped the track at the corner of Third and Market streets this morning at about 10 o'clock and that the eight passengers aboard escaped injury is due to nothing but the fact that the motorman, Joe Watson, had full control of the car and was allowing it to go at a very moderate rate of speed. After leaving the rails the car slid but a few feet and barring the loss by the delay of traffic, no damage resulted.

movement that would effect the entire world. For this great improvement just such men are needed, Congress and President Roosevelt surely cannot disregard the appeals of such notables as General Charles H. Grosvenor, one of the most influential congressmen in the United States; United States Senator Foraker, the silver tongued orator of Ohio; United States Senator Scott, Congressman Dwyer, Taylor and many others. Their view of the mammoth question briefly summarized is as follows:

"The United States is in better shape, financially, today than ever before for carrying through this greatly needed improvement. We have plenty of money. The Ohio is the greatest inland waterway in the world. The project is national in importance and the sum of money it would cost is insignificant in comparison with the immense amount of good to the whole nation which would be the immediate result."

President Roosevelt, it will be seen by the following statement made by him while addressing a Cincinnati audience, will do all within his power to help the movement to a successful end:

"You will prosper even more than at present as the great waterways are made more accessible to larger vessels from here to the gulf and that will take place coincidentally with the beginning of the great work which is to connect the Pacific and the Atlantic by an isthmian canal—a work destined to be one of the giant performances, one of the giant material works of the twentieth century—a work surpassing in magnitude anything of the kind that has ever before been attempted in the history of mankind. Under the theory of our national government, which was invoked when this country became a part of the nation, the nation must continue to do its part in helping secure the prosperity of Cincinnati and of the entire Ohio valley by seeing that the improvement of the Ohio is continued."

East Liverpool sent one of the largest delegations. Congressman Taylor was recognized as belonging to it. The East Liverpool members were placed on important committees by Colonel Vance.

ASSAULTED AND! KNOCKED DOWN

avenue. Mr. Culbertson turned after the second shot and sent a bullet speeding after the one going toward the avenue.

Besides dazing him the awful blow had disarranged Mr. Culbertson's entire system, but he managed to crawl and hobble to his home which is not a hundred yards distant.

He was suffering awful agony and one spasm of pain followed another. His condition alarmed Mrs. Culbertson, who was alone in the house when he reached it, and she immediately telephoned for Dr. Davis. The police were informed of the affair at about the same time.

Dr. Davis examined the injury and found the glands and muscles of the neck considerably swollen. The skin was not broken and it can be reasoned from this that the blow was dealt with some smooth instrument, probably a billy. An anaesthetic was administered by the physician last night to relieve him of the excruciating pain.

Officer Fisher responded promptly to the summons sent to the police station and made a thorough search of the neighborhood, but could find no trace of the men.

A News Review reporter called at the Culbertson home this morning and found the injured man still in great pain. He told the story as given above. When asked about the appearance of the assailants he said: "It was too dark and I was too dazed by the blow to see them clearly. One of them was of small stature, rather inclined toward corpulency, and wore a slouch hat, black coat and white overalls. I have no idea of the appearance of the other one."

Dr. Davis told a reporter this morning that the blow had no doubt been struck with force enough to have caused death had it landed a few inches higher. "It must have certainly fractured the skull had it struck it," he said.

Mr. Culbertson was no doubt saved from being foully murdered by his great height and the smallness in stature of his assailant. He is considerably over six feet in height.

The robbers had not progressed far enough to find the big roll of money Mr. Culbertson carried in one of his trousers pockets and only secured about $4 in silver. Mr. Culbertson is confident that one of them at least paid dearly for their ill gotten gains for the awful oath as they started to run after he fired the first shot sounded like a howl of pain.

Since the holdup of George Culbertson several stories of similar attempts are being told. The scene of last night's attempt has been considered dangerous for a long time by the people of the neighborhood as it offers peculiar advantages for this sort of business. During the past three weeks a number of ladies and young girls have been accosted by villainous looking characters and they have come to shun the road after nightfall unless accompanied by a male escort. One night about two weeks ago, Curtis Culbertson, a son of last night's victim, had an experience in exactly the same spot. He was going to his home from Harker's pottery, where he is employed as a turner and when passing under the trestle on the east side of the school building his attention was attracted by something striking at his feet. He lighted a match but could find nothing but a good sized stone. He concluded to investigate and retraced his steps for a short distance. As he neared the tree a man stepped out and started to run. Culbertson was unarmed but started in pursuit. He was outdistanced and the fellow was soon lost in the darkness.

Culbertson is of the opinion that it was the intention of the man to hold him up and that the stone was thrown to attract his attention the object being to strike him while stooping down.

James Robinett, Robert Newell and George Culbertson on Sunday afternoon were out looking for a stone quarry and were followed by three suspicious looking characters. They visited California Hollow and crossed over to Gardendale. The men continued to dog their footsteps and they concluded to find out what was up. They went to the loneliest spot in Lake Hollow and were prepared to put up a stiff fight, but the men did not follow them to this point.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF OHIO RIVER CHAMPIONS OPENS AT PARKERSBURG

Distinguished Men From All Parts of the Great Valley Present, Working Earnestly for the Cause.

Parkersburg, W. Va., November 11.—(Special)—The city is crowded with enthusiasts on the subject of improved navigation for the Ohio river. These enthusiasts are among the most prominent and influential of the citizens making up the 13,000,000 population of the Ohio valley. Among them are governors of states, United States senators, congressmen, manufacturers of wide reputation, and men whose personal checks would be good for millions.

The meeting of the Ohio River Improvement association which opened this morning at 10 o'clock, is certainly destined to be great and memorable. The forenoon was largely devoted to welcoming speeches and routine work, but even in this the temper of the great assembly was apparent. The workers for river improvement are in earnest and their plans to bring about that improvement are practical and not visionary.

Governor White welcomed the convention in an eloquent speech, in which he outlined at much length the greatness of the Ohio valley and the interests, not only of West Virginia, but of the whole country, therein. He was followed by J. W. Vandorvort, mayor of Parkersburg; E. M. Gilkeson, of this city, spoke for the Business Men's league. President John L. Vance, of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, responded in a forcible address on the importance of the work before the convention.

Organization, reports, and business matters occupied the attention of the convention until noon.

This afternoon was devoted to addresses. Among those booked to speak were Senator Elkins, Foraker and Scott; Congressman Dovenor, Grosvenor, Dalzell and Hemingway; Col. George H. Anderson, secretary of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce, and Hon. John F. Dravo, of the Pittsburg Coal Exchange, with an opportunity for short speeches by others desiring to make them.

Parkersburg is gaily decorated and is giving the many hundreds of visitors royal entertainment.

One of the most notable features of the convention is the attendance of men high in public life, men who have weight, men who by their oratorical and intellectual abilities could start a

A REPUBLICAN CLUB IS MUCH NEEDED

This Is the Consensus of Opinion of Members of the Central Committee.

TO GET OUT FULL VOTE

Various Plans Were Suggested And Discussed—Plenty of Money on Hand to Settle All Bills Incurred During the Recent Campaign.

The city Republican central committee held a meeting at city hall last night at which there was a good turnout. The purpose of the meeting was to settle up the affairs of the organization for the campaign just closed. The expenses were not great, and it was found when all bills had been presented there was plenty of money with which to liquidate all indebtedness.

During the progress of the meeting a question was broached which, while not a new one by any means, has nevertheless been a source of much concern to not only the city committee but the Republicans generally. Aside from presidential year, it is seldom that the full Republican vote is out, and in spite of every effort put forth by the committee in the recent election, there were a large number of stay-at-homes. It was brought out at the meeting last night that this condition was probably due to a lack of proper ward and precinct organization. Many suggestions were made looking to the inauguration of a systematic and vigorous movement which would result in a full vote being polled on every occasion.

While the plan was not mentioned last night it is known that a number of members of the committee are of the opinion that the best method that could possibly be employed to bring about the desired result would be the institution of a Republican club, which would be permanent and influential, taking in members of the party from every section of the city. This plan is tabooed by party leaders, on account of the fact that the last club of this character existing here for several years, was not the success it might have been. There are many reasons for the lack of interest in the old McKinley club and it would be ancient history to recall them at this time.

The central committee would be glad to lend assistance to a movement of this sort, and it is acknowledged that a Republican club would be of vastly more use as a means of getting out the vote of every election than by the methods now employed.

THE INSTITUTES FOR THE FARMERS

Dates and Speakers for Gatherings of Columbiana County Agriculturists.

ANOTHER ERROR IN CODE

Which, However, Is Not Expected Seriously to Impair It—List of Pharmacists Lately Licensed—Life-Sentence Man Gets a Pardon.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, November 11.—A bulletin has been issued by the state board of agriculture giving detailed information on the farmers' institutes to be held in the different counties of the state under the auspices of the board this winter. Three mills per capita is allowed each county for local institute expenses, the fund for Columbiana county being $125, which will be equally divided among the institutes. The places, dates, names and addresses of presidents, secretaries and lecturers of the Columbiana county institutes are as follows: New Waterford, December 12 and 13, president, J. W. Cope, New Waterford; secretary, W. T. Cutshall, New Waterford; lecturers, John Begg, Columbus Grove, Putnam county; C. J. McCormick, Gallia county.

Lisbon, January 9 and 10, president, Homer Shelton, Teggarden; secretary, John Patterson, Lisbon; lecturers, John L. Shawver, Bellefontaine, Logan county; Charles McIntyre, Chancellersville, Muskingum county.

Damascus, January 30 and 31, president, D. J. Powell, Damascus; secretary, Mrs. S. J. Santer, Damascus; lecturers, John Begg, Columbus Grove, Putnam county; Rei Rathbun, Springfield, Clark county.

The places for the Columbiana county institutes were given in this correspondence some time ago, but the dates and assignment of speakers had not been made at that time. Lecturers occupy about one-half of the time of each session with short, practical talks on farm topics, the other half being taken up by general discussion of those present and in answering questions. The institute proper consists of five sessions, morning, afternoon and evening of the first day and morning and afternoon of the second day.

The state board of pharmacy has given out the result of the October examination of applicants for pharmacists' licenses. About 39 per cent of the number examined failed. Among the successful applicants who have been granted certificates are the following: Satisfactory pharmacists—Frank Sanda, East Palestine; William L. Shanks, Wellsville; Arthur H. Thomas, Columbiana; Fred T. Bennett, Lisbon; Charles E. Bradshaw, formerly of East Liverpool, now of Niles; Emmet B. Cary, of Alliance, was given an assistant pharmacist's certificate.

Another mistake has been discovered in the code. Two different fiscal years is provided pertaining to the same subject. One makes the taxation year extend from April 1 each year to April 1 of the succeeding year elsewhere it is provided that the fiscal year shall begin January 1 and end December 31. There is no doubt but that a number of minor errors will crop out from time to time in the code, but it is not anticipated they will seriously impair it, nor is it thought that the court would consent to knock out the law at this time were test cases brought to test its validity because of the chaotic condition which would result. The code is not perfect, as every one knows, and one of the duties the next legislature will be called upon to perform will be to correct its infirmities.

Governor Nash will attend the "On to Cairo" meeting, to be held under the auspices of the Ohio River Improvement association at Parkersburg, W. Va., but will not be present on the opening day.

Governor Nash has pardoned Henry Wehrli, serving a life sentence from Tuscarawas county. It is granted on condition that he abstain from the use of liquor. Wehrli shot a man named Booth, using a shot gun, on Christmas day, 1900, after a night spent in debauch by each which resulted in a quarrel. Wehrli was sentenced to be hung, but escaped the gallows through Governor McKinley commuting the sentence to life imprisonment. The prosecuting attorney said he feels the verdict should have been manslaughter.

MAKING ANOTHER SURVEY FOR AN ELECTRIC RAILWAY TO REACH EAST LIVERPOOL

Surveyor Says a Line Connecting Youngstown, Salem, Lisbon and This City Is a Certainty.

Salem, November 11.—Prospects for an electric railway line between Youngstown and East Liverpool, touching Salem and Lisbon, a project that has been hanging in the air for two years or more, look brighter at present, and there are indications which lead one to believe the road will be built in the near future.

A party of four surveyors from Lisbon arrived in this city yesterday. The party included J. F. Spence, C. R. Gaskill, C. W. Bick and D. C. Spence. The first named was in charge and acted as spokesman when there was anything to be said. The men stopped at the Falkenberg, and will be in this city for a day or two while they work south. At present they are merely restaking a line which was surveyed between this city and East Liverpool, through Lisbon, two years ago. J. F. Spence made the survey then and he has, of course, a good idea as to the location of the old stakes. The work of running over the old line to East Liverpool will be completed within two weeks, it is believed. Then the party will return here and make the actual survey to East Liverpool. After that is done a survey will be made between Salem and Youngstown.

J. F. Spence talked to some extent about the project, but some points he refused to be quoted on. To a reporter he said:

"We are simply restaking an old line in East Liverpool which I made two years ago. We are working for the Youngstown, Salem, Lisbon & East Liverpool Electric Railway Co. Our line will run direct from Salem to Lisbon, and thence to the river at East Liverpool. We will have spurs from the main line to Leetonia and Columbiana. The route from this city to Youngstown I cannot mention at this time."

"Is this line a part of the one in which A. W. Jones and J. H. Ruhlman, of Youngstown, are interested, which has for its purpose the reaching of Columbiana from Youngstown?" the scribe queried.

"You did not hear me say so, did you?" Mr. Spence replied. "I cannot tell you now who is behind the project, but it ought to be sufficient for me to say that before we started out on the survey this time the matter had been

For Brutality to His Wife and Family Will Likely Spend a Long Term at the Workhouse.

Suffering with nervous prostration as the result of her husband's cruel actions, Mrs. Alfred Rose lies at her home in the Peach block on College street in a precarious condition, and the husband, for his display of barbarism, will be an inmate of the Canton workhouse at hard labor for exactly 161 days.

After he had carried on at his home in a most disgraceful manner for more than an hour Rose was arrested last evening at 9 o'clock by Officers Dawson and Morris, upon the request of Miss Maude Rose, a daughter, who, though she hated awfully to do so, having fearful anticipations of the shame that the arrest of her father would bring on the family, was compelled to summon the police in order that the life of her mother might be saved.

To the city jail the man who in former years, it is said, was a good husband and father and a respected citizen, but now nothing less than a degraded brute, was taken by the officers and assigned to a cell. Upon his incarceration he became very indignant and said that he would show a certain set of people whether or not they could get revenge on him by having him arrested for a wrong that he never committed. He said that he would prove this morning that he was not guilty and demanded a trial at 10 o'clock.

However, by morning the effect of some of the booze, which, it seems, had been his most intimate companion for many months, had slightly died away and he was not nearly so anxious to have the true state of affairs aired in court. After a short deliberation he asked that a hearing be granted him. This done, he, without offering any excuse, pleaded guilty to the charge and received a fine of $25 and costs, in default of which he will be sent to the workhouse.

In giving sentence Mayor Davidson turned on all of his latent reprimanding abilities and the lecture that Rose received was enough to make a man without a conscience and past all hopes of ever recovering from the depths of debasement quiver and wish that his days on earth were at an end. He said:

"Rose, from all that I can learn, this is not the first time that you have acted in this manner at your home. Your reputation is that of a man too low and degraded to be allowed to inhabit a civilized community. I understand that for months you have not contributed one cent toward the maintenance of your family. A man of your physical strength, able to provide well for a family, and instead of doing so spending all for drink, should be horsewhipped. Up at your home now lies your wife, a woman respected by every person who knows her, in a condition that may result seriously, and all is due to your inhuman treatment. That you are guilty to the charge is a self evident fact to me.

"No man could be guiltless when his wife and children are compelled to resort to the police for protection. Entire families do not turn against a father and husband without good cause. You ought to be so ashamed of

JOHN ALLISON IN AGAIN

Released from Wellsville Jail Only to Land Behind the Bars in This City.

John Allison is in duance vile again. And it is the first time for many months, that he has been behind the bars with a charge other than theft against him. This time it is only a common drunk charge. He was picked up last evening by Officer McDermott while taking Second street in at every stride. He had in his possession when landed at the city hall $2.75, three packages of tobacco, one sack of coffee, a loaf of bread and numerous other articles.

Allison will be let off with $5.00, inasmuch as it is his first incarceration since he was released from jail at Wellsville yesterday.

Licensed to Marry.

Lisbon, November 11.—(Special)—Frank Edward Bertschey, Wheeling, W. Va., and Anna Stephenson, of Lisbon, have been licensed to marry.

Death of an Infant.

The four-days-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMillen died this morning at their home on Sheridan avenue. The burial will take place at 2 o'clock at Riverview.

Fined $5.00—John Ebert appeared before Mayor Davidson last evening and without parleying pleaded guilty to committing an assault on A. C. Roe. He was fined $5.00 for the offense.

ASSAULTED AND KNOCKED DOWN

Geo. Culbertson, Well Known East End Citizen, Victim of Footpads—Used Pistol and Routed Them.

Like the hiss of a viper came the awful imprecation of a highwayman to George Culbertson at about 9 o'clock last night as he was passing the Horace Mann school building, a hundred yards from Pennsylvania avenue, in the East End. But more cowardly than the reptile, the robber gave no time for the victim to protect himself until an awful blow was struck. That it did not carry foul murder with it was only because it did not strike where intended by the cowardly assassin and robbers.

Mr. Culbertson had left home early in the evening for Wellsville, taking with him money, about $157, to pay for a car of bricks. On the way down his eye began paining him to such an extent that he concluded to abandon the trip and left the car to go to a doctor's office. After having the eye treated and making some small purchases he boarded another car for his home, alighting near the main entrance to Columbus park. The cross street leading to his home is unlighted and there are a number of vacant lots which are grown up with high weeds. The light from the flint mill shines along the street in such a way as to blind one walking toward it, and at the school building there is a large tree affording excellent concealment. The entire aspect of the place is such as to favor attempts of this nature.

When Mr. Culbertson left the car his first thoughts were of highwaymen and he drew his revolver from his pocket and walked along with it in his hand. Before reaching the spot where he was attacked the thoughts of highwaymen had slipped entirely from his mind and he was not on his guard when he heard a human voice hiss: "Now I've got you, you ————" A second later he received an awful blow on the back of the neck. The blow was a vicious one, no doubt intended to crush him to death, or at least into insensibility. It was struck from the rear and to the left and Mr. Culbertson fell on his face and right shoulder. His assailants no doubt thought that the terrible blow they had dealt had accomplished the desired end, for they did not strike him again but pounced upon him like hungry beasts of prey.

Mr. Culbertson was almost insensible from the blow but could dimly realize that his assailants had turned him over and one of them was rifling his pockets. He still grasped the revolver, but his arm was cramped in such a way that he could not use it. In a moment, however, the man who was bending over him changed his position in such a way that the arm was freed and Mr. Culbertson, taking the best aim possible under the circumstances, pulled the trigger. There was a horrible oath and the hand was quickly drawn from the pocket.

The nerve of the robbers was gone and they started to run. With the greatest of difficulty Mr. Culbertson raised himself to his knees and fired again at one of the fleeing forms. The robbers had taken the opposite directions, one going directly west, and the other toward Pennsylvania

ON THE ACTIVE LIST

The Lisbon Tin Plate Mill Is to Be Started Again January 1.

Lisbon, November 11.—(Special)—J. J. Graham, superintendent of the American Tin Plate company's plant here, received a letter today from his brother William, of New York, vice president of the corporation, stating that the Lisbon mill is on the list of those to be put in operation between now and January 1. The Lisbon mill employs 800 people.

Appointed Administrator.

Lisbon, November 11.—(Special)—William Weingartner has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Jere Creeden, late of Liverpool township. Bond $300.

Married in Canton.

Lisbon, November 11.—(Special)—Word has been received here of the marriage in Canton, of Lyman E. Holtz and Miss Minnie Currie.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

SAVING ON PACKING.

The potteries that are making scheme goods have adopted the use of second-hand barrels as an economy for packing, and it is impossible at present to secure enough of them. The potters are paying seventeen cents and twenty cents for cracker and sugar barrels respectively, while the new packages cost thirty-eight—something of a saving. These scheme goods are sold so close that everything in connection with their manufacture is cut to the lowest possible limit.

CHANGE IN NAME.

The name of the Crooksville Art Pottery Co., of Crooksville, has been changed to the Crooksville China Co. When the company was first incorporated, it was the intention to manufacture a line of art ware, but a change in plans was made and the company will make white ware. The five kiln plant will be devoted entirely to the production of this class of goods.

ZANESVILLE'S NEW LINES.

The J. B. Owens pottery, of Zanesville, is putting several new lines upon the American market which seem to have made a hit. Some of the best effects are in quadruple blends and are now being exhibited for the first time in public. The jars and other shapes in which these blends are introduced are made from 8-inch to 16-inch in height.

MADE NIGHT HIDEOUS.

The Italians employed in making the grade for the C. & P. double track were on a rampage Saturday night. Their shanties along the hillside above Harker's pottery were the scene and they made the night hideous with their cries and screams. James Means, who is firing a kiln at Harker's, was an interested listener to the melee.

FERGUSON IMPROVING.

S. M. Ferguson, general manager of the East Liverpool Potteries company, who was seriously injured in a street car accident some two weeks ago, is beginning to get around again with the aid of a cane, and expects to resume work before the close of the present week.

DOING A BIG BUSINESS.

Harkers are packing a car of mixed ware this week for shipment to St. Paul, Minn. This pottery is enjoying a big business and the orders have been so numerous of late that the shipments have been made from ware just from the kilns. All the departments are being worked to their full capacity.

ADVANCED.

Frank Johnston and Francis Beaver have been advanced from apprentices to journeymen in the biscuit kiln crew at Harker's. The event was celebrated by them by passing around the cigars among their bench mates.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Miss Bertie Cook, a taker-off at Harker's, has resigned.

Miss Elizabeth Elliott has accepted a situation at Thompson's.

Miss Annie O'Donnell has taken a position as finisher at Harker's.

W. Lownds has left the China works and accepted a position as dipper at Brunt's.

Norman Grubb, of Bradford, Pa., has accepted a position in the slip house at Thompson's.

James Fox, a jiggerman from Murphy's, has gone on at Harker's as an apprentice kiln hand.

William Rigby, of the dipping department at Harker's, was reported on the sick list yesterday.

Miss Della Hoskins, of the decorating room at Thompson's, is back at work again after an illness.

Miss Mabel Foster, of the decorating room at the Thompson, has returned from a visit with Pittsburgh friends.

Miss Emma Hanley, of Harker's, has been confined to her home on Railroad street for several days with sickness.

Miss Orilla Treese, of the decorating room at Thompson's, returned to work yesterday after a week's illness.

William Costlow and Charley Roser, pressers at Harker's, are back at work again after being ill for a week or more.

It is a strong probability that six biscuit kilns will be made each pay at Harker's instead of five, as is now the case. An extra jiggerman will be put on.

Teddy McDermott, of the glost kiln crew at Harker's, was a visitor to Pittsburgh Sunday.

Earl Coleman has resigned as bench boss in the biscuit end at the K. T. & K., and accepted a situation in the biscuit end at Thompson's.

Mrs. Minnie Nolan has resigned as forelady of the biscuit warehouse at the Thompson to accept a situation as filler-in in the decorating department.

Albert McBole, the well known potteryman, of Sebring, who recently came to this city, has taken a position in the glost kiln crew at Harker's.

James Stanley, bench boss of the glost kiln crew at Harker's, has moved into his new house on Bradshaw avenue, where he is now most comfortably situated.

Miss Billie Ward, of the decorating room at the Thompson, has been very sick for the past few days and her sister, Miss Rose, has been filling her position.

Miss Mary Ward, of the decorating department at the Thompson, will leave in a few days for Sebring, where she will visit her brother, John, for a few days.

Nelson Eisenhuth, presser at the K. T. & K., who was injured several weeks ago in an elevator accident, is improving, though not yet able to return to work.

STEUBENVILLE

A DOLEFUL WAIL SET UP ANENT THE FOOT BALL ROW.

One of the Newspapers Complains of Unfair Tactics And Gives Its Side at Length.

The following are the comments of the Steubenville Herald-Star on the football fiasco of Saturday:

One of the rankest places along the entire length of the Ohio valley for foot ball or any other kind of athletics to flourish is in the miasmatic sporting community of East Liverpool. Somehow they cannot be straight or courteous to visiting teams. Some years ago the S. A. C. foot ball team went up there to play, and they chased the Steubenville referee off the field. The young man in question is held in high esteem here by those opposite him politically, and in every way and he would not stoop to do anything unfair even for his own team. We refer to S. E. Loftus. To top it all off they mobbed the players at the depot. From that day to this they felt so guilty that they could not be persuaded to come here and play, fearing they would get paid back in like coin, whereas Steubenville will not see outside players given the wrong end of deals. McFadden, the basket ball player, to the contrary. The boys here treat visiting teams more royally and courteously than teams are treated elsewhere. What East Liverpool did Saturday is an injury to sports and is low down practice, and they should feel ashamed to engage in sports of any class. It was infinitesimally little and childish for men to be mixed up in. It is now up to them if they are not rank quitters and want to show that they are game to take up Capt. Needham's challenge to play on some neutral ground, say Toronto. It is dollars to doughnuts they will squirm out of accepting the challenge.

Saturday's game put the right brand on the East Liverpool players. It was a short game, only lasting about two minutes and a half and there it ended, due to the dirty, unfair tactics of East Liverpool players. Even some of the spectators who were robbed out of their money and none refunded, objected to the tactics of the East Liverpool players and stated that our local referee was all right in his decision. East Liverpool kicked off and Burns, who got the ball, returned it 15 yards. Burns hit the line for 30 yards in three downs and it was easy sailing hitting the East Liverpool quitters. In attempting an end run a fumble was made and East Liverpool got the ball. On the second down the East Liverpool quarterback did not pass the ball, was wedged in, against the line and in a few seconds threw the ball forward and it was gotten by one of their players and he made a touchdown, and Burns, who could have stopped the latter play, did not, as the whistle had blown. Referee Doyle decided it a forward pass and ordered the ball back. East Liverpool would not listen to this and wanted the referee put out of the game, but our boys would not stand for it and so the game was called. The East Liverpool captain refused to pay our players' expenses and would not refund money to spectators.

CIDER MAKING IN THE COUNTRY

Midnight Is the Time the Day's
Work Begins and It Lasts
Till Nightfall.

A FAST GROWING INDUSTRY

The Ohio Output the Present Year
Likely to Reach a Million Gallons.
The Process at the Mills—Interesting Features.

Midnight is an odd hour at which to begin the day's work, but it is the time at which the great majority of the cider mills scattered through Ohio start their daily grind in the busy part of the season, and frequently this term is applicable to the entire period that they run. Darkness has generally fallen when the clank of the machinery of the mills ceases, and at times the dawn of another day is reached, with the machinery still in motion, another day's work following without a break.

The cider-making industry has increased wonderfully the past few years, even the old days when cider was the staple beverage of the winter fireside and the direction in which the products of the orchard invariably went, falling considerably below the mark set by the active manufacturers of the present time. Thirty thousand gallons of cider a season is a common estimate for one mill, and when it is known that the season rarely passes beyond three months, it can be seen that the daily average is by no means inconsiderable. Many mills put out 2,000 gallons of cider a day, and do not regard this fact as anything to be especially proud of. It would not be exaggerating to say that the cider output for Ohio this year will foot up to one million gallons.

If this estimate had been mentioned to the farmer of twenty-five and thirty years ago, who depended on his hand press for grinding his apples, he would probably have ridiculed the statement. And yet while the making of cider has made rapid strides in the last quarter of a century, the process is still hardly in a perfected condition, and a view of the vast majority of cider mills scattered through the state would be decidedly disappointing to the person who had no previous acquaintance with them.

To begin with, in many instances the average building hardly merits even that term of architecture, and could be more appropriately called a "shed." The "mill" consists generally

A WOMAN'S PRAYER.

It is notable that in the despondency caused by womanly diseases, there seems to many a suffering woman no way of escape from pain except at the price of life itself. It would be sad to record such a story of struggle and suffering except for the fact that in such dire distress many a woman has found a way back to health and happiness by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This great remedy for womanly ills has well been called "A god-sent to weak and sick women." It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"Your medicine almost raised me from the dead," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Egypt, Plymouth Co., Me. "My urine was like brick dust, and I had pain all over me and such a dragging feeling it seemed I could not do my house work. I had to sit down to wash the dishes. In the year 1897 I was so sick I did not care to live and prayed many times that God would take me. One day I found a little book I read it and wrote to Dr. Pierce, and in a few days received an answer. I decided to try his medicine, and to-day I am a well woman. I have no backache, no headache, no pain at all. I used always to have headaches previously to the monthly period and such pain that I would roll on the floor in agony. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and was completely cured."

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing just as good. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser—sent, free, on receipt of stamps to cover expense of mailing only. of from two to three rooms, in which a board floor is a rarity, the machinery being erected on loose boards laid on the bare earth. There is generally a "loft" to the building, also, which is used for the storing of the miscellaneous rubbish that accumulates during the season. There are in the neighborhood of from five to ten of these mills scattered over a county, operated by a thrifty farmer who has cleverness enough to turn the needs of his neighbors to a profit to himself, however small that profit may be.

The first step in the making of cider is the sorting of the apples from which it is intended it shall be made. To the uninitiated one kind is as good as another for this purpose, but the experienced farmer, the connoisseur in matters pertaining to the cider press, knows better. Therefore, it is a matter of careful consideration with him which variety of apples he will take to the cider mill, and which he will store in the barn for winter use, or ship to the city markets. The most popular variety of apples for cider is known as the "Rambo," and a bushel will make from two to three gallons of the cider.

The apples as they arrive at the cider mill are poured into a huge vat, where a "grinder" turns them out shortly afterwards in large juicy masses ready for the cider press. These masses are generally laid on a series of wooden screens suspended above each other, frequently five and six in a row. In the parlance of the cider mill the great masses of freshly ground apples are termed "cheeses," and they do indeed, merit the term. The "cheeses" are generally from three to four feet square and gradually taper to a point. When half a dozen of the screens are covered they are lifted into the great press, and a pressure of several thousand pounds soon brings the rich juice spurting out through the faucets into large tanks arranged for this purpose, which in an incredibly short time is filled to the brim, and the spectator can hardly realize that within the space of half an hour the load of apples that was driven up to the door is now ready for removal in the shape of seventy-five or a hundred gallons of cider.

Frequently an "apple butter" business is carried on as a side line at the cider mill, and where this is done the farmer leaves a portion of his cider in the hands of the manufacturer, who, at a trifling cost, undertakes to make it into butter, greatly to the satisfaction of the younger members of the household, to whom "apple butter" is a treat to be eagerly welcomed.

One of the most interesting features of the cider mill is to be found at the time of its opening for the day's work.

No matter how early the hour may be, long lines of wagons are waiting at its doors, the foremost of which gradually make way for those in the rear, who by the time their turn comes have waited frequently for hours. Indeed, it is no uncommon sight to see twenty-five wagons drawn up around a cider mill, the occupants of which are patiently waiting their turn to be served.

It may be asked why more mills are not started to meet this demand. Several answers might be given to this question, but it will be sufficient to mention one point. When the load of apples has gone through the various stages of the mill, and the farmer has carried the cider to his wagon, the proprietor hands him a small slip, figuring his services as so much per gallon. And, what is the rate? Our friend has driven away in the direction of his home, bearing with him seventy-five gallons of cider, and has handed the owner of the mill seventy-five cents in payment of his services. It will not need a very elaborate system of reasoning to determine the standard of payment in vogue at the mill, and when it is seen that this amounts to the princely sum of one cent per gallon, and it is taken into consideration that the season of the mill is but three months, a person can soon see the immense profits in the cider making business, and can appreciate the fact that there must be many capitalists in that line.

PESTHOUSE A NUISANCE

Say Youngstown Citizens, Who Want An Injunction Against the City.

Lisbon, November 11.—(Special).—A case in which the trustees of Youngstown township are plaintiffs against the city of Youngstown, was heard in circuit court yesterday, having come up on appeal from Judge Robinson's court in Youngstown. The trustees seek to enjoin the city from building an addition to its pest house, which is situated outside the city on the Austintown road, and to have the nuisance abated.

In their petition the trustees allege the pest house is a nuisance, and that such an institution could not lawfully exist without their consent.

The city claims that when the pest house was established in 1878, no such consent was required, and they are rightfully on the premises. They deny that the pest house is a nuisance, but say it is a benefit. Judge Robinson last Monday refused to issue an injunction. The case was tried here upon affidavits and evidence submitted to the court.

SEWER COMMISSION

Held a Meeting And Allowed Bills Amounting to About $4,500.

The board of sewer commissioners held a meeting last night in the office of F. H. Croxall, attended by Messrs. J. G. Lee, Daniel Nellis, George Peach and City Engineer J. C. Kelly. No new business was transacted, but bills amounting to a few dollars less than $4,500 were allowed.

One of the principal bills was the final payment to John A. George & Sons, who were voted their last installment for a sewer constructed in Rural lane, Ravine street and Thompson avenue. John Ryan was allowed his first installment for the sewer improvement on West Market street, Halles street and Green lane.

BILLS ALLOWED

AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING OF CLAIMS COMMITTEE.

Chief Thompson's Claim For $7.50 Held Over For Further Investigation.

Claims committee met last night and passed upon a number of bills. Clerk Willis Davidson took advantage of the first day of the open-hunting season, and was in the woods all of yesterday. Owing to the fact that several of the officials believed Mr. Davidson would not return in time, a few of the regular bills were not presented. They will be attached to the payroll.

The bills passed upon follow:
The Stark county workhouse, $185.75; Ruggles-Gates Co., criminal dock et., $16; Ohio Valley Gas Co., $3.80; Watson & Sloan, supplies, $4.23; West & King, supplies, $2.65; Ceramic City Light Co., $863.05; Wilson Stationery Co., supplies, $2.50; Sanitary Reduction Co., $100; Charles T. Larkins, supplies, $2.35; Crockery City Ice Co., ice, $2.40; Operative Potter Publishing Co., $7.50; Union Printing Co., $1.75; East Liverpool Spring Water Co., $1.40; J. H. Burgess, salary, $65; C. B. Ogden, salary, $40; T. V. Thompson, prisoners and workhouse, $38.75; Police department, payroll, $647.12; American Sewer Pipe Co., $37.21; Sarah Haight, janitress, $12; George S. Walton, clerk of the board of deputy state supervisors of elections for Columbiana county, expenses of preparing registration, $264.15; Willis Davidson, salary as clerk, $68.25.

Chief of Police Thompson was in with a bill for $7.50, claimed due for serving notices on shanty boat residents to vacate the city's premises. The committee believed the duty of serving notices upon residents of the passage of resolutions and ordinances was a part of his regular routine work, and the bill was held over.

The payroll of the street department was not in, neither was that of Fire Chief Morley. These accounts will be looked over today, and regularly placed upon the payroll.

A High Compliment.

The Globe Wernicke company, for which Lewis Bros. are the agents in this city, reproduces in miniature a page of the News Review containing Lewis Bros.' ad as published in these columns, and is sending it out by the thousands as a circular. The ad, which is neat and attractive, like all News Review ads, contains a reference to the recent fire in the Barker building and begins by asking: "Did you see the Globe Wernicke sectional book cases come out of the fire?" The reproduction is both a compliment to Lewis Bros. as ad-writers and to the News Review as an ad-displayer.

Mull's Grape Tonic Cures Constipation.

When the sewer of a city becomes stopped up, the refuse backs into the streets where it decays and rots, spreading disease-creating germs throughout the entire city. An epidemic of sickness follows. It is the same way when the bowels fail to work. The undigested food backs into the system and there it rots and decays. From this festering mass the blood saps up all the disease germs, and at every heart beat carries them to every tissue just as the water works of a city forces impure water into every house. The only way to cure a condition like this is to cure the constipation. Pills and the ordinary cathartics will do no good.

MULL'S GRAPE TONIC

is a crushed fruit tonic-laxative which permanently cures the affliction. The tonic properties contained in the grape go into every afflicted tissue and creates strength and health. It will quickly restore lost flesh and make rich, red blood. As a laxative its action is immediate and positive, gentle and natural. Mull's Grape Tonic is guaranteed or money back.

movement that would effect the entire world. For this great improvement just such men are needed. Congress and President Roosevelt surely cannot disregard the appeals of such notables as General Charles H. Grosvenor, one of the most influential congressmen in the United States; United States Senator Foraker, the silver-tongued orator of Ohio; United States Senator Scott, Congressman Doyener, Taylor and many others. Their view of the matter, much question briefly summarized is as follows:

"The United States is in better shape, financially, today than ever before for carrying through this greatly needed improvement. We have plenty of money. The Ohio is the greatest inland waterway in the world. The project is national in importance and the sum of money it would cost is insignificant in comparison with the immense amount of good to the whole nation which would be the immediate result."

President Roosevelt, it will be seen by the following statement made by him while addressing a Cincinnati audience, will do all within his power to help the movement to a successful end:

"You will prosper even more than at present as the great waterways are made more accessible to larger vessels from here to the gulf and that will take place coincidentally with the beginning of the great work which is to connect the Pacific and the Atlantic by an isthmian canal—a work destined to be one of the giant performances, one of the giant material works of the twentieth century—a work surpassing in magnitude anything of the kind that has ever before been attempted in the history of mankind. Under the theory of our national government, which was invoked when this country became a part of the nation, the nation must continue to do its part in helping secure the prosperity of Cincinnati and of the entire Ohio valley by seeing that the improvement of the Ohio is continued."

East Liverpool sent one of the largest delegations. Congressman Taylor was recognized as belonging to it. The East Liverpool members were placed on important committees by Colonel Vance.

avenue. Mr. Culbertson turned after the second shot and sent a bullet speeding after the one going toward the avenue.

Besides dazing him the awful blow had disarranged Mr. Culbertson's entire system, but he managed to crawl and hobble to his home which is not a hundred yards distant.

He was suffering awful agony and one spasm of pain followed another. His condition alarmed Mrs. Culbertson, who was alone in the house when he reached it, and she immediately telephoned for Dr. Davis. The police were informed of the affair at about the same time.

Dr. Davis examined the injury and found the glands and muscles of the neck considerably swollen. The skin was not broken and it can be reasoned from this that the blow was dealt with some smooth instrument, probably a billie. An anæsthetic was administered by the physician last night to relieve him of the excruciating pain.

Officer Fisher responded promptly to the summons sent to the police station and made a thorough search of the neighborhood, but could find no trace of the men.

A News Review reporter called at the Culbertson home this morning and found the injured man still in great pain. He told the story as given above. When asked about the appearance of the assailants he said: "It was too dark and I was too dazed by the blow to see them clearly. One of them was of small stature, rather inclined toward corpulency, and wore a slouch hat, black coat and white overalls. I have no idea of the appearance of the other one."

Dr. Davis told a reporter this morning that the blow had no doubt been struck with force enough to have caused death had it landed a few inches higher. "It must have certainly fractured the skull had it struck it," he said.

Mr. Culbertson was no doubt saved from being foully murdered by his great height and the smallness in stature of his assailant. He is considerably over six feet in height.

The robbers had not progressed far enough to find the big roll of money Mr. Culbertson carried in one of his trousers pockets and only secured about $4 in silver. Mr. Culbertson is confident that one of them at least paid dearly for their ill gotten gains for the awful oath as they started to run after he fired the first shot sounded like a howl of pain.

Since the holdup of George Culbertson several stories of similar attempts are being told. The scene of last night's attempt has been considered dangerous for a long time by the people of the neighborhood as it offers peculiar advantages for this sort of business. During the past three weeks a number of ladies and young girls have been accosted by villainous looking characters and they have come to shun the road after nightfall unless accompanied by a male escort. One night about two weeks ago, Curtis Culbertson, a son of last night's victim, had an experience in exactly the same spot. He was going to his home from Barker's pottery, where he is employed as a turner and when passing under the trees on the east side of the school building his attention was attracted by something striking at his feet. He lighted a match but could find nothing but a good sized stone.

He concluded to investigate and retraced his steps for a short distance. As he neared the tree a man stepped out and started to run. Culbertson was unarmed but started in pursuit. He was outdistanced and the fellow was soon lost in the darkness.

Culbertson is of the opinion that it was the intention of the man to hold him up and that the stone was thrown to attract his attention the object being to strike him while stooping down.

James Robinett, Robert Newell and George Culbertson on Sunday afternoon were out looking for a stone quarry and were followed by three suspicious looking characters. They visited California Hollow and crossed over to Gardendale. The men continued to dog their footsteps and they concluded to find out what was up. They went to the loneliest spot in Lake Hollow and were prepared to put up a stiff fight, but the men did not follow them to this point.
